Last 4 Juvenile Escapees Surrender In Marin City

Cold, Hungry Kids Give Up Meekly

Assault and car theft charges were being prepared today against the alleged ringleader of a Marin County Juvenile Hall break, who surrendered meekly yesterday with three other juvenile hall escapees inside an empty Marin City apartment.

They were the last of the 15 who escaped last Saturday to be returned to custody.

Marin City Fire Chief Frank Machado and Deputy Sheriff Harold Sleezer nabbed the four, holed up like animals at House 461 in the hills. One girl was sleeping on the floor. Russell Bitters, 17, (aso known as Mancebo, his stepfather's name) was lying on the floor.

"They were hungry and filthy," Sleezer said. "They had only a few slices of stale bread to eat in three days. The girls' hair were straggling down like witches."

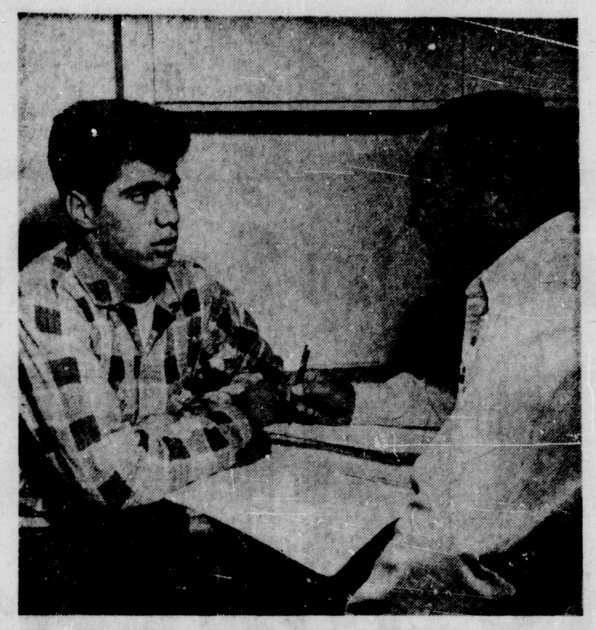
All were in stocking feet and were taken to the county jail without their shoes.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos credited Undersheriff Eugene Meyer and other deputies with a tireless job of tracking down the hideouts.

"Machado and Sleezer deserve special credit for actually arresting the four," said Mountanos.

Bitters was booked for assault, car theft and escape. A 16-year-old Novato boy, described as surly, was booked for car theft and escape. The girls, 16 and 17, were returned for escape.

Bitters, (or Mancebo), the ringleader, admitted striking Supervisor James Hasson with an iron pipe and stealing a car from Terra Linda for the getaway. The youth, who becomes 18 on April 13, expressed remorse and shame for leading the outbreak.



'RINGLEADER' AMONG LAST CAPTURED — Russell Bitters, alias Mancebo, alleged ringleader of a break of 15 inmates, including three girls, from the Marin County Juvenile Hall, is quizzed by Undersheriff Eugene Meyer after capture yesterday in a Marin City apartment. 'Ashamed,' Says Cowed Ringleader

By WAT TAKESHITA

A sobered and repentent juvenile "ringleader," whittled down to size in the sheriff's office, quietly admitted late yesterday he was a fool to lead a mass escape from Marin Juvenile Hall Saturday night.

"I am ashamed of what I did," Russell Bitters (he often goes by the name of his stepfather, Mancebo) of Sausalito admitted with hanging head.

Then looking straight at an old acquaintance, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, Bitters added: "If anybody else tries it, he's a damn fool. Because staying up there in a room, cold and hungry, you sure appreciate the warm bed and food at juvenile hall."

MASS ESCAPE

Swinging an iron pipe at Supervisor James Hasson, 26, Bitters led 14 others in a mass escape. Eleven were caught by Easter Sunday, but he and three others slept under the trees the first night and in a vacant Marin City apartment for two more nights.

Bitters denied he aimed the iron pipe at Hasson's head.

"I didn't want to hurt nobody. I just wanted to scare him," he said. Hasson deflected the blow and suffered a bruised left wrist.

The youth then gave the sheriff a frank account of how the escape was planned and almost misfired. "I wanted to back out," Bitters recalled. "But because I went around bragging so much, I didn't want to lower myself to them (the other youths at the hall). I did not want them to think I was chicken."

BLAMES SELF

Blaming himself for the outbreak, Bitters said he is sure the entire uprising would have

QUAKE JOLTS NORTH STATE, WEST NEVADA

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An earthquake shook wide areas of Northern California and western Nevada at 10:20 a.m. today.

No major damage was reported.

Fixtures and furniture were shaken in this California capital.

The quake swayed buildings in Reno and knocked light items from tables at some residences. The shake lasted about 10 seconds.

It was not felt at Fallon, closest point to the famed Dixie Valley fault responsible for so many earthquakes in Nevada.

Workers in several state buildings in Sacramento reported that the temblor shook their offices for more than half a minute.

Room Rates Hiked At Marin General

Charles Rowe Appointed To Hospital Board

Charles A. Rowe of Corte Madera was appointed yesterday afternoon to the board of the Marin County Hospital District.

Rowe, a chief engineer for Standard Oil Co. and vice chairman of the Corte Madera Merger Study Committee, will fill the unexpired term of John F. O'Connell, hospital board president who resigned in January. The term runs until next year.

At a special board meeting late yesterday at Marin General Hospital, Rowe at first told the directors he felt he would be unable to take the position because the policy of having its regular meetings in the morning would not allow him to devote full time to his employment. The board members then agreed informally to abandon the 8 a.m. meeting time and return to the previous practice of meeting at night.

Rowe resides at 350 Chapman drive with his wife and three sons and one daughter. Last year he was a member of the executive committee of the citizen's committee for the expansion of Marin General Hospital.

His prior community service includes six years on the board of the Corte Madera Sanitary District, two years on the Corte Madera Planning Commission, and four years on the town council from 1948 to 1952.

Necessary To Avoid Deficit

All room rates will go up $2 per day April 10 at Marin General Hospital.

The board of directors last evening authorized the increase for all medical, surgical, maternity, nursery and pediatric beds in the hospital. The present $2.50 charge for use of the hospital emergency room will jump to $5.

The increases were deemed necessary by the board and administration because of generally higher costs of supplies and materials.

MONTHLY LOSSES

A survey by the administration showed losses from these hospital departments was averaging about $12,000 per month.

The losses were only being partially counterbalanced by earnings of the pharmacy, clinical laboratory, operating room and delivery room, Administrator S. Ames Pence reported.

The changes will mean two bed wards will go from the present $20 per day to $22; single bed rooms, from $27 to $29; nursery care for infants, $6 to $8, and pediatrics from $20 to $22.

CITES DEFICIT

Dr. Wilson P. Goddard, board president, said a deficit of approximately $20,000 would be expected this year without the increase in rates. He said that despite a more than 90 per cent average occupancy, income was not catching up to costs.

Pence said the new rates will still be low in comparison with 11 other hospitals in the Bay

School Tax Hike Passed In Lagunitas

Voters of the Lagunitas School District balloted 229 to 126 yesterday in favor of a $2 tax rate per $100 assessed valuation.

The tax rate, limited to the 1959-60 fiscal year, is an increase of 25 cents over the current rate. It was proposed by the school district's five trustees to raise approximately $40,480 in local revenue to make ends meet in a proposed $124,463 "austerity budget" for running Lagunitas School next year. Current enrollment is 360 pupils.

Mrs. John Verzi, chairman of the Lagunitas Elementary School Tax Committee, said today: "This is a demonstration of deep satisfaction, confidence and trust in the present school board, in their policy of econ-

S. F. Pushed As Summit Meeting Site

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco Mayor George Christopher and California Gov. Edmund G. Brown today offered San Francisco to the Big Four powers as the site for a summit conference on Berlin.

Christopher acted on a report in Newsweek magazine that San Francisco is the personal preference of British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

He wired invitations to President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Macmillan, France's President Charles de Gaulle, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Vice President Richard Nixon.

Brown said in a wire to Eisenhower:

"The beautiful city of San Francisco is already a symbol of peaceful negotiations throughout the world.

"It was in San Francisco that the United Nations was born in 1945. It was in San Francisco that the Japanese peace treaty negotiations were completed in 1953.

"No more suitable site could be found for negotiations so important to the future peace of the world."

Christopher suggested either the Palace of the Legion of Honor or the Veterans Memorial Building where the United Nations charter was signed, as appropriate for the occasion.

Plans For Novato Bowling Alley Told

Plans for a half-million-dollar bowling alley and later addition of a motel, swimming pool and billiard parlor on about four acres north of Hamilton Air Force Base were disclosed today.

The development is planned by a corporation called the North Marin Recreation Center. Names of the principals were not disclosed.

Title to the property is held by the Marin County Abstract and Title Co. Listed as directors of the corporation are members of the San Rafael law firm of Bagshaw, Schaal, Martinelli and Talley, acting as dummy incorporators on behalf of the developers.

Planned for immediate construction is a 32-lane bowling alley, according to attorney Roderick P. Martinelli. Later plans include a restaurant, cocktail lounge, pool, billiard parlor and 16-unit motel.

A site plan for the project has been filed with the Marin County Planning Commission and is to be considered by the commission Monday afternoon.

The development is planned on property immediately north of the Air Force base reservation, with access through a road which now serves a gasoline station north of the base. The property is on the east side of Highway 101, across from the entrance to Loma Verde.

Martinelli said the developers hope to complete the bowling alley in time for a Labor Day opening.

Car Injures Mother, Son; Boy Arrested

A 15-year-old Mill Valley youth, on probation from a juvenile hall term for car theft, was arrested by Mill Valley police today after a car he was driving struck a mother and her 7-year-old boy in a pedestrian crosswalk.

Joey Martin and his mother, Mrs. Elinore Martin of 10 East Blithedale avenue, Mill Valley, were in a crosswalk at Corte Madera and Throckmorton avenues when the youth's car hit them, police reported.

The boy suffered a broken collar bone, scalp wound, cuts and bruises. His mother suffered extensive pavement burns. Both were treated by a physician.

The youthful driver was cited by police for violating a pedestrian right of way, operating a vehicle with faulty equipment and driving without a valid operator's license.

Truck Driven By Dad Hits Girl, 5

A 26-year-old Santa Venetia father was the driver of a pickup truck that knocked his 5-year-old daughter from her bicycle near their home last evening, reported the California Highway Patrol.

Alana Swinney darted across Washington street on her bike as her father, Charles Milton Swinney, a San Rafael auto mechanic, turned from North San Pedro road toward their home at 15 Washington street.

Swinney said he hit the brakes and was almost stopped when his car struck his daughter and her bicycle. The girl was given emergency treatment for cuts on her scalp and forehead at Marin General Hospital.

Chemist Files Tam Trustee Candidacy

E. Richard De Lew, 51, a chemist who lives at 259 Corte Madera avenue in Corte Madera, has filed his candidacy for the Tamalpais Union High School District board of trustees, announced County Supt. Virgil S. Hollister today.

De Lew, who is employed by Yosemite Chemical Co. in San Francisco, is the fourth candidate for a single Tam High district trusteeship to be filed in the May 19 trustees' election. Incumbent Howard L. McGill of Tiburon has not announced his plans.

San Rafael Stores Offer Prizes, Bargains Galore In Red Tag Days

Bargains by the bundle.
Free flowers.
Free merchandise orders—with a "mystery woman" contest and unexpected telephone calls as ways of getting them.

All these are in store for Marinites during Red Tag Days, tomorrow, Friday and Saturday at 55 San Rafael stores.

Anyone answering a telephone in Marin County today might be winning—or losing—a merchandise order, depending on how he or she answered the phone. If the answer were "Red Tag Days Are Thursday, Friday and Saturday," the merchandise order would be sent from the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce office. If it were "hello," the answerer would wind up in the "almost won" class.

Tomorrow and Friday, two comely ladies, attired in stylish spring outfits, will stroll San Rafael streets and into stores. They are the "mystery women." They will pass out merchandise orders to those who correctly recognize them.

But the main feature of Red Tag Days, as always, will be bargains. Fifty-five San Rafael stores are participating in the U. S. Controls Travel Of Russ Envoys

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today imposed a temporary ban on travel by Soviet diplomats in the United States in retaliation for a similar ban on the movements of American diplomats in the Soviet Union.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the prohibition on travel—from which New York-Washington travel is excepted — will be lifted when the Soviets lift the ban they announced earlier today.

Alcorn Quits As National GOP Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Meade Alcorn resigned today as chairman of the Republican National Committee, effective when the committee picks a successor next week.

Alcorn announced at a news conference that he had delivered a letter to President Eisenhower earlier in the day saying he is reluctantly giving up the chairmanship for personal reasons. He said he is returning to his law firm in Hartford, Conn.

As for a successor, Alcorn said he has discussed a very large number of names with the President and many members of the committee. He declined, however, to evaluate the chances of any prospects.

Tiburon Fire District Expects To Ask 21-Cent Tax Rate Increase

The Tiburon Property Owners Assn. learned last night during a "know your fire district" program that the Tiburon fire protection district commission expects to increase its tax rate from the present 69 cents to 90 cents next year and wants to shift to a paid fire department now.

Commission Chairman Eugene E. Trenam made the disclosures during hour-long questioning by association members. The two other commissioners, Howard I. McGill and Jon F. Stanton, were not present for the "panel" discussion arranged by association president Lee C. Megan.

"Based on population needs and growth of the area, we are now at the point of needing a fulltime paid fire department, instead of the present volunteers," Trenam said.

On the budget, he said, "we reduced the fire district tax rate to 69 cents this year and found that the money barely covered expenses."

Both Trenam and speaker Fred E. Kaiser, staff member of the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, expressed the opinion that the present three-man commission was "very adequate" and should not be increased to five members.

Five of the seven candidates to succeed Trenam, who is retiring from the board, spoke in favor of a five-man board for "better representation in the area." They all campaigned for increased efficiency and reduced costs in the fire department.

Candidates Francis L. Hevern and Robert A. Vallee and John P. Eichorn were not present. Eichorn submitted a letter outlining his views.

Parks Group To Study Offer Of Marshland

Over the strenuous objections of Chairman Walter R. Castro, the board of supervisors yesterday referred to the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission an offer to give the county 20 acres of Santa Venetia marshlands for recreational purposes.

The offer, originally a proposal for a fill-and-cover dump, was made by Mervin J. Goodman of San Francisco and Renato Ricci of San Rafael, who own about 1,000 acres of tidelands near Santa Venetia.

Goodman said he and Ricci are willing to give "any 20 acres the county desires" out of the 1,000-acre holding.

The two men appeared before the county's garbage disposal committee last week and offered the county the same number of acres for operation of a dump similar to the one in Larkspur.

The committee tabled the matter because (1) the supervisors had already refused to let Smith brothers operate a fill-and-cover dump in the area and (2) the county would have to build a costly access road and levee.

Castro became wary yesterday when Goodman and Ricci announced they had dropped the idea of a dump and merely wished to donate land for recreational use. How the marshland would be filled is "entirely up to you," Goodman told the board.

Declaring the offer was improperly presented, Castro said it should be put in writing. He repeatedly mentioned the storm of protest by Santa Venetia residents last year after Smith brothers applied for a dump permit.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman finally won 3-2 approval of a motion declaring the 20 acres "not a proper site for garbage disposal," but asking the parks and recreation commission to investigate the recreational possibilities of the land.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss joined Castro in voting "no."

"I think this board is perfectly capable of going out and inspecting that site," Castro protested. "There's been so much opposition (to a dump), and those people will get all stirred up again."

Bus Light Experiment Extended

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 30-day safety experiment in which Greyhound buses operated during daylight hours with their headlights burning has shown sufficient promise to warrant continuance and further study, Western Greyhound Lines reported today.

The tests, made in Marin and San Mateo Counties, will be extended as far south as San Jose and to all of Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

S. A. Ossman, director of safety for Greyhound's western division, said the experiments have been encouraging in prevention of accidents in which other motorists were the aggressors.

"We hope that the increased visibility of buses, due to daytime headlight burning, will direct motorists' and pedestrians' attention to the buses and prevent unsafe maneuvers in congested traffic," Ossman said.

LEGISLATURE HAILS BIRTH OF 3 HEIFERS

But Assemblyman Frank Belotti (R-Eureka) came up with a new one this week that made his colleagues gasp in admiration.

L.A. Weather Stays Hot, Dry

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles closed out its driest month in weather bureau history and then launched today on an April heat wave.

A high of 84 was predicted for this afternoon, 15 degrees above normal.

No rain is in sight. It didn't rain at all last month — the first dry March in 81 years of weather records.

The state president of the California Society of Professional Engineers will speak at a dinner meeting of the Marin County chapter on April 14 in San Rafael.

Leo W. Ruth Jr. of San Jose will speak on "Purposes and merit of the unity plan of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers." The meeting is set for 7 p.m. at Trader Horn restaurant on Francisco boulevard.

Miss Anne Jackson, president of the Marin chapter, said all registered engineers in Marin are invited.

Ruth, the state president, will discuss the proposal to unite all engineering organizations under one unit to handle professional standards and ethics.

Architects Disapprove Site For Fire Station

The Tiburon Fire Protection District board, in a special unannounced meeting Monday night, was advised by the district's architects not to build a substation on Kirby Atterbury's Paradise drive property.

The advice, from architects Gromme, Mulvin and Priestley, was disclosed by chairman Eugene E. Trenam at a meeting last night of the Tiburon Property Owners Assn.

Trenam said the meeting was held on short notice so all three commissioners could be present.

(The Brown Act, a part of the government code of the State of California, provides any public body must give 24 hours public notice of any special meeting.)

Trenam said the commission authorized expenditures of about $150 to reconstruct the two-car carport on the Atterbury property to a one-fire truck garage for a Belveron Gardens substation. The property has been leased for a year at $10 per month with an option to purchase, Trenam said.

As a preferred site, Trenam disclosed, the district board has selected the Joseph and Rita Paoli property at Trestle Glen and Paradise drive. Condemnation papers are ready to file.

The architects cited unstable soil conditions as reason for recommending against the Atterbury property.

Economy Hits New Peaks; Outlook Bright

NEW YORK (UPI)—America's resurgent economy climbed to new record highs in the first quarter of 1959 and the outlook is for even greater growth in the next three months.

Such key barometers of economic health as industrial production, gross national product, consumer spending and personal incomes all established new all-time highs as the economy recovered all the ground lost in the 1957-58 recession.

AT HIGH LEVELS

Among the individual industries, steel, construction, autos, aluminum, copper and appliances all operated at levels sharply above a year ago, with the first two at record highs.

The one dark spot in the economic picture was unemployment, which was held at the alarmingly high level of 6 per cent of the total labor force, compared with 4 per cent before the recession.

Automation, which permits companies to produce more with fewer men, has been blamed for the sluggish unemployment figures.

RECORDS BROKEN

The steel industry, for example, has broken production records left and right during the first quarter, despite the fact that some 200,000 steel workers still are out of work. An official of the United Steelworkers of America predicted that 100,000 of the unemployed may never return to the mills.

A good deal of the steam behind the economy's first quarter upsurge came from strike-hedge buying in such major industries as steel, copper and aluminum. Companies in scores of industries are rapidly rebuilding depleted inventories to avoid shortages in the event of strikes later this year.

The curren three-year contract in the steel industry expires at midnight June 30, while the three-year pact in the aluminum industry ends a month later.

Some Tips On How To Find Growth Stocks

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Growth stocks have been traders' pets for some time now. The trick is to find growth stocks before the general trading public notices them and bids their price sky high.

They are different than glamor stocks, speculation in which is the earmark of much of the stock market's 1959 history. And they differ from the mature stocks, or blue chips, that nestle in many investors' strong boxes.

A growth stock is one which its buyers hope is going up in price over the years.

GLAMOR STOCKS

Glamor stocks are those that shine for a few days or weeks or even months but may NOT have the basic growth trend. In today's market they get a ride for many reasons: A product price rise, a quarterly report better than expected, a big defense contract, rumors of mergers or stock splits.

Blue chips are the steady performers over the years but only rarely with prospects of better than average growth.

A growth corporation is usually defined as one whose earnings per share have advanced over several years at a higher rate than the growth of the U.S. economy as a whole — from 2 to 4 per cent a year.

FAVORITE EXAMPLE

What traders look for is a company whose earnings increase at least 8 to 10 per cent a year, thus doubling its profits in nine years or less. International Business Machines is a favorite example. Over the last 12 years its earnings, with an annual growth rate of 16 per cent, have doubled about every four years.

Growth stock prices can plunge like any other in a bear market. But investment counselors insist that although a portfolio of growth stocks looked as sick as any other in past bear markets, it recovered its value much more quickly on the upturn, and then went on to new and even more impressive highs.

NINE FACTORS

How can you tell a growth company? Fortune magazine says a survey of market analysts shows nine desirable factors they look for, although NO one company is likely to have all:

1. At least a three-year history of growth; 2. Usually in industries which haven't yet matured; 3. Earnings going up at least 8 to 10 per cent a year; 4. Products usually close to the consumer; 5. Company in a top position in its product market; 6. Although usually retaining major part of earnings, company should increase dividends as profits rise; 7. Adequate capital to support its growth rate with minimum dilution of shareholder's equity; 8. Alert and imaginative management, in sufficient depth to outride any changes; 9. Size of company in relation to its market (very large size usually means a high degree of maturity rather than growth prospects).

Growth companies now are mostly in new industries. But mature industries can be candidates, too, thanks to new technologies or new products.

STOCKS TODAY

Volume for the day was estimated at 2,900,000 shares compared with 2,820,000 yesterday.

International Business Machines ran up another dozen points in a further response to its stock split news. Philadelphia and Reading recouped about three. Thiokol was off a half dozen points.

Chrysler, Republic Steel and Texas Co. were about a point higher.

Early gains by steels, motors and selected issues were cut or erased. Lukens was down about a point. Pfizer was off about two. American Telephone held a gain of better than two points.

H. L. Green was off more than a point.

Mill Valley Chamber To Mail Out Roster

Directors of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce today decided to mail an alphabetical roster of chamber members to some 6,000 householders in the Mill Valley area sometime in May.

Purpose of the mailing, according to chamber secretary John E. McSweeney, is to publicize chamber members and their businesses.

Fingerprinting Of Solicitors Approved

The Marin County Board of Supervisors did an about-face yesterday by requiring fingerprinting of all out-of-county applicants for solicitor licenses.

Last month, the board authorized preparation of amendments requiring applicants either to furnish the county clerk with character references or submit to fingerprinting in the sheriff's office.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman had urged the "either-or" provision out of courtesy to legitimate operators, who, he said, would not hesitate to furnish references.

But yesterday the provision was criticized by Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos and Asst. Dist. Roger P. Garety.

They had no objection to the county clerk checking applicants' references, but they strongly urged that all applicants also be fingerprinted and investigated by the sheriff.

"Does it make sense," asked Garety, "to find out three months after a license has been granted that a man has a record of three convictions for petty theft?"

"People don't like to be fingerprinted if they're in the clear," Fusselman replied. "They find it objectionable. . . . What you're trying to do is put everyone through the mill."

He said he wouldn't object to the sheriff checking applicants "on the side — but by name, not with a fingerprint."

Chairman Walter R. Castro told Fusselman that dishonest applicants wouldn't hesitate to give phony names. And Supervisor Vera Schultz stressed that the applicants "are asking permission to go into people's homes."

By 4-1 vote, Fusselman dissenting, the board approved a mandatory fingerprinting amendment. Supervisor James A. Marshall offered the motion.

Under the change, no character reference will be required. The county clerk automatically will refer all applicants to the sheriff.

Other approved amendments prohibit issuance of a license until one month after an application is filed and make a solicitor's license valid for only one year instead of indefinitely.

The regulatory measure applies only to salesmen from outside the county who solicit orders for future delivery of goods or services to residents of Marin's unincorporated areas.

State To License Two Contractors

SACRAMENTO (CNS)— The Contractors' State License Board announced it plans to issue contractors' licenses to two firms in Marin if no protests are received by April 15.

A painting and decorating contractor's license will be issued to Robert V. Kunst Painting and Decorating, 465 Hickory lane, Terra Linda.

An insulation contractor's license will be issued to Glen Graham of San Rafael Insulation Co., 247 Emerystone terrace, Marinwood.

New Juvenile Unit Created

A new unit has been created in the juvenile division of the county probation department to determine which cases should go before juvenile court for a hearing, County Probation Officer Walter Busher announced today.

The new unit, called the intake unit, will be headed by Don R. Miller, supervising probation officer, who has six years experience in the Marin County Probation Department.

"The organization change results from the growing need to free other staff members of investigative work so that they can give more time to the supervision of court wards," Busher explained. The change is consistent with a recommendation included in the Youth Authority survey team report now being completed.

As intake officer, Miller will be responsible for initial study of all new children's cases referred to the probation office to decide which should be referred to the juvenile court.

SLAP LEADS TO ROMANCE

Two years ago actor Joby Baker, 23, was slapped by actress Joan Blackman, 20, of San Francisco while enacting a scene at a Hollywood drama studio. Sunday, Joby presented Joan with a four-carat diamond ring as they announced their engagement. Joan, displaying the ring as she and her husband-to-be posed for cameraman, said they plan to marry May 10 in Beverly Hills. It will be the first marriage for both. (AP Wirephoto)

Use Of Convicts' Funds To Feed Entertainers Legal

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Controller Alan Cranston ruled yesterday it was all right to spend $549.73 from the inmate welfare fund at San Quentin to help prisoners relax last New Year's Day.

The money was spent for a buffet dinner—including 1,000 pounds of meat — for San Francisco night spot entertainers who put on a day-long show for 4,000 convicts without pay.

Cranston's legal adviser, asked whether the expenditure from the inmate fund was proper, concluded it was, on the ground it afforded a "source of relaxation from the rigors of prison life."

Chicago Hikes Bid For GOP Conclave

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago has raised its cash bid for the 1960 Republican national convention to $500,000.

Chicago's previous bid was $300,000 cash, plus fringe benefits totaling $126,500. These benefits, including payment of hall rental, janitor and usher service and building of the speakers platform, were dropped in the new offer.

Two other cities are in the running for the convention. New York bid $400,000 cash plus $150,000 in fringe benefits; Philadelphia $475,000 cash.

The GOP National Committee will pick the site next week.

American families put 3.9 per cent of their after-tax income into life insurance in 1957.

Surgery On Grace Set This Week

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UPI) — Dr. James A. Lehman said today he will operate on Princess Grace of Monaco sometime this week.

He refused to say, however, whether the former Hollywood movie star was suffering more than a recurrent appendicitis.

The Philadelphia surgeon, who is the Kelly family physician, confirmed earlier reports that he had been corresponding with Lausanne surgeon Dr. Jean-David Buffat about the princess' condition for some months.

Marines, Navy Plan Amphibious Exercise

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Thousands of leathernecks of the 1st Marine Brigade today began loading aboard 21 transports, attack cargo ships and amphibious force landing ships for the West Coast's second major mock attack of the year.

The Marine troops are from Hawaiian Island bases. They are under command of Brig. Gen. A. R. Kier, who will serve as commander of the landing forces.

The Marines will stage an amphibious assault rehearsal the morning of April 3 along the Silver Strand, south of Coronado. From there they will reboard their ships.

Heavy units of the Pacific Fleet will join the task force for a live bombardment by artillery and aircraft of San Clemente Island, off the Southern California coast. This is to simulate the softing-up operation before a landing is made.

The maneuvers, called "Exercise Big Land," reach their climax the morning of April 6 when the more than 5,000 Marines "hit the beach" at Camp Pendleton under cover of gunfire and bombardment by aircraft from the Marine Air Station at El Toro.

Once ashore the Marines will maneuver for four days, using the latest helicopter envelopment techniques to surround an enemy.

A total of 15,000 sailors and Marines will take part in the operation, which is scheduled to end April 10.

Looking for inspiration, lady? Open a can of WHITE STAR TUNA and you'll have dozens of ideas for your luncheon. How about appetizers? Bake tiny cream puff shells and fill with WHITE STAR TUNA, plus chopped celery, pimientos, and onion, in mayonnaise. Or, just as easy, bake big shells and fill with WHITE STAR in Newburg sauce, for a satisfying main dish.

When the garden begs you to come outside and dig, take along a roll of REYNOLDS WRAP Aluminum Foil. You'll find many uses for the heavy-duty type; some gardeners place weighted strips of foil between young plants, to protect them; others keep their trowels wrapped in REYNOLDS, free from rust. Flower pots wrapped in foil stay clean and look pretty.

It's April Fool's Day; play a gentle joke on your family. Serve real Italian minestrone; let them enjoy the rich, thick soup, with its tender macaroni and good vegetables—they'll never believe you made it in ten minutes, with a GOLDEN GRAIN soup mix. GOLDEN GRAIN Minestrone Mix is real minestrone, with garden-fresh flavor. Add boiling water, simmer, serve it with pride.

No spring breeze ever felt fresher than you, walking to the office in the morning after a shower with DIAL Soap. And no face ever felt so cool, so clean, as when washed with DIAL. This gentle soap contains AT-7, the ingredient which sweeps away skin bacteria which cause perspiration odor and sometimes blemishes, too. Choose DIAL in pink, blue, green or gold.

Big news for the toddler: now he can enjoy real pineapple and cottage cheese with Mother! So can small sister, for the new GERBER treat, Cottage Cheese with Pineapple, comes in both Strained and Junior types—smooth cottage cheese and finely processed pineapple, to add protein to babies' diets. You'll find these treats only on the GERBER shelf in your food store.

It's April again—showers forecast! If you are planning a shower, this is an easy sauce which will turn plain cake into a glamour-dessert. Whip ½ cup cream. Combine ½ cup KARO Syrup, Blue Label, and ¼ cup brown sugar; gently fold into the whipped cream. When well blended, pour over cake or ice cream. This makes 1¼ cups of delectable sauce.

No wonder good cooks favor ROYAL TREAT Mushrooms. Ordinary foods taste new and different when you add these little mushrooms which are steamed in their own delicious nectar (no liquid added) all the flavor preserved. Here's a breakfast-brightener: grill small ham-steaks and top with broiled ROYAL TREATS; serve on toast. Save the juice for gravy.

HAFB Personnel Told To Expect Raid Drills Soon

Officials at Hamilton Air Force Base today warned all personnel to be ready for air raid drills "in the near future."

The drills will be announced by the sounding of base air raid sirens, without previous warning, and are part of exercises to test the base's "DECUF"—Defense Capability Under Fallout.

Today's warning indicated that all military and civilian personnel at the base, and all dependents living on the base, should expect the sirens to sound any day, and should be familiar with the routine prescribed for them under raid conditions.

In brief, these are the instructions to personnel:

All base personnel are to go immediately to shelters or duty posts as assigned.

Persons who do not live or work on the base should go to the base theater.

Children in the base nursery and base school will be placed in the basement of the Non-Commissioned Officers' quarters.

The base will be operated under raid conditions, with such installations as the base exchange, commissary and bank closed.

The drill may last for several hours.

Sirens will sound these signals:

Warning yellow alert—five minutes continuous sounding of siren. Personnel are to prepare to go to shelters or duty stations.

Warning red—three minutes wavering siren. Take cover immediately in assigned shelters or at stations.

Fallout — Announcement over public address system and mobile loud speakers. Personnel are to start exposure control procedures.

Permit Granted For Nicasio Summer Camp

A conditional use permit for operation of a children's summer camp near Nicasio was granted to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gregg of Forest Knolls yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

But the board denied the couple's request for permission to rent the 114-acre camp site to private organizations during off-season weekends. Not included in the original application, it brought a storm of protest from Nicasio Valley property owners who cried, "Commercialism!"

The board's unanimous decision came at the end of an exhaustive public hearing which lasted two hours and 15 minutes. Pro and con debate for the most part was a rehash of arguments heard previously by the supervisors and county planning commission.

The permit was limited to two years, with the Greggs privileged to apply for renewal when it expires.

Conditions attached to the permit require that (1) the land use be restricted to a summer camp for boys and girls, (2) precise development plans be approved by the planning commission under architectural supervision, and (3) all regulations applying to similar camps be followed.

No age limit was set for children attending the camp, but Gregg said it will open for youngsters aged 6 to 15.

Nicasio Valley protestants were represented at yesterday's hearing by attorney Bryan McCarthy of San Rafael. The Greggs' cause was pleaded by attorney Joseph G. Wilson, also of San Rafael.

Meeting Set On Sandspit In Sausalito

What may prove to be a key meeting on the proposed commercial development of the Sausalito sandspit is scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight in the Sausalito City Hall, when the city's planning commission will discuss the proposal.

J. Eugene McAteer of San Francisco and his associates plan to sublease the area from Madden and Lewis and construct a $250,000 restaurant and small shops on the land. Their proposal is being resisted by some Sausalitans who contend the area should be preserved as municipally owned land for recreation.

The planning commission is expected to settle on a recommendation to be submitted at the April 7 meeting of the city council.

Revision Sought On College-Liquor Laws

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill to repeal laws setting down how far liquor selling establishments must be from universities and other institutions was introduced in the Senate this week by Sen. J. Eugene McAteer (D-San Francisco).

McAteer said that various and fluctuating rules governing the sale of liquor near colleges should be placed in the hands of the director of the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control.

IRVING NEWMAN

Jewish Center Director To Leave June 1

Irving Newman, executive director of the Marin Jewish Community Center in San Rafael for the past six and one-half years, today announced that he will resign that post June 1 to realize "a dream of long-standing"—to devote full time to his boys' and girls' camp near Philo in Mendocino County.

The 42-year-old director said he and his wife, Edna, have nurtured the dream of conducting the camp for 12 years. They and their four children, Carol, 14; Aaron, 12; Marshal, 9, and Ruth, 7, residents at 33 Van Ripper court, San Anselmo, will move to the camp to live the year around.

PROGRESS CITED

In a formal statement to the center's board of directors, Newman recalled progress made at the center the past six years.

He cited establishment of a nursery school and day camp. The latter will reach more than 150 children this summer, he said.

The directors made public a letter to Newman expressing "our heartfelt thanks . . . for the devotion and dedicated services he has given the Marin Jewish community."

SOCIAL WORK DEGREE

Newman is a graduate of Yeshiva College and Ohio State University, where he received a master's degree in social work. He has been engaged in youth work since 1936.

Newman and his family will move to their camp, El Rancho Navarro, in June. The camp will be open for two months of the year.

A new executive director will be selected with the aid of the national Jewish Welfare Board. Harriet (Terry) Bloom will direct summer day camp activities at the center after Newman's departure.

Town-Country Opens

Swimming and picnicking facilities were to open at the Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax today marking the start of the club's 1959 season. Dancing will begin May 2.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Bigamist Chooses

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Ernest Sears Jr. gave up his first wife, their two children and a new home in Florida for his second wife and a prison term of one to two years.

His lawyer said yesterday that Sears wanted to "serve his time so he could be with the women he loved."

Sears, 23, was convicted of bigamy last month. The charge later was reduced to attempting to commit a felony. Sentence was suspended on condition he return to his first wife and support her and their children.

His lawyer, Dan Garfinkle, said Sears went to Winn, Fla., and got a job and a new house.

"But last Thursday he kissed his first wife goodbye and came to Nashville . . . to be with his second wife," Garfinkle said.

Fortune For Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — A "poor" old woman, who lived in a one-room apartment for 50 years, has willed Harvard University $190,000 plus a fortune in gems.

Mrs. Daisy Mabel Thayer Smith, 86, died Jan. 2. Probate officials reported today that she willed Harvard the money in a will drawn up May 31, 1934.

Neighbors said Mrs. Smith lived on a diet of coffee, doughnuts and peanuts. She was kept on as a clerk at an insurance office in the belief she was "destitute."

Pope Visit 'A Courtesy'

LONDON (AP) — A royal spokesman says Queen Mother Elizabeth is calling on Pope John XXIII later this month in his capacity as head of the Vatican State and the "courtesy" visit doesn't "imply or reflect any views" on the pontiff's political or religious opinions.

He Hides Things Well

Childs, a cafe owner, tucked away $400 cash and a $115 check when he closed his cafe Friday night.

It's still there—at least he thinks so. But where?

After ranscaking the cafe in vain, Childs resorted to an amateur hypnotist. The first attempt to prod his memory failed. They are going to try again.

"It's there somewhere," Childs muttered. "Somewhere."

4 Killed In Italk Crash

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Three Americans and an Italian bystander were killed yesterday in the fiery crash of a twin-engine U.S. Navy transport plane which failed on take off with 21 aboard. Ten persons were injured.

The military version of the DC3, carrying 5 crewmen and 16 passengers, was taking off from Naples' Capodichino Airport for Malta when one engine quit.

The U.E. Embassy in Rome said all aboard the plane were U.S. naval personnel or dependents.

Navy Not In Top Shape

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adm. Arleigh S. Burke says the U.S. fleet isn't in top shape but "we'll do the best we can—and that will be plenty good."

Burke, chief of naval operations, told reporters yesterday the state of readiness of the fleet is not as good as it should be. He was questioned about a conclusion reached by a Navy-appointed civilian board that the present condition of the fleet "is bad."

Plague Feared

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Fear of a typhoid fever outbreak led to plans for the mass immunization today of between 900 and 1,000 persons who have been forced from their homes by the still rising waters of the flooded Rock River.

Water four to five feet deep roiled around the homes in the exclusive North Park residential area, and those in the Shore Drive section.

The muddy waters, rolled over Blackhawk Island, three miles south of Rockford. The island is the site of scores of small homes, many of them temporary structures in which transient laborers lived.

Dulles Takes Swim

JUPITER ISLAND, Fla. (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is getting exercise as well as rest while he recuperates here from cancer.

He took a swim in the pool yesterday and strolled about the grounds at the home of Undersecretary C. Douglas Dillon, his host.

Sure She'd Win

SALINA, Kan. (UPI) — Mrs. Irene Henderson Kelley, who was officially named "Kansas Mother of the Year" after 39 other women received erroneous notification that they had been selected, made this statement:

"I was sure I'd be named . . . There was a committee of the state Business and Professional Women's Club working for me, and they're a powerful group."

Negro Gives Up

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Collins Park's first Negro family, harassed by racial demonstrations and plagued by a business boycott, has decided to move out.

George Rayfield, who moved his family into a home in the suburban housing development last Feb. 23, announced his decision yesterday night to sell his home and move.

Rayfield, 46, said one important factor was the steady decline of his garbage disposal business.

He said many of his white customers hired other truckers to remove their garbage after learning he had moved into the all-white community of 400 homes.

Old-Time Films Added To Western Weekend

An all-day program of silent movies dating back to the earliest productions of the movie industry has been added this year as a feature of Novato's Western Weekend, June 19, 20 and 21.

The silent movie program will be staged in the Novato Theater, donated for the occasion by owner Don Donahue. Shows will start each hour on Saturday, June 20.

Old-time piano accompaniment will be provided, and audience singing of songs of the silent movie era will also be featured.

Arrangements for the movies are being made by the Open Door Club, with the club's share of proceeds to go to the Presbyterian Church on Wilson avenue. The Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the Western Weekend celebration, will share in proceeds of the program.

SPRING FEVER REAL AILMENT, SAVANT SAYS

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A University of Michigan meteorologist says spring fever is a real ailment caused by the reaction of warm air on the winterized body.

"As environmental temperatures get higher, the body has to reduce its insulation by enlarging the small blood vessels so the blood gets to the surface in large amounts," says Prof. E. Wendell Hewson.

This, he says, causes spring fever and, he adds, there is no known cure.

Novato High Athletes Get Awards

Receiving awards were:

Varsity basketball: Jack Sparrow, George Gnoss, Ronald Marder, Pete Ferrarese, Richard Olrich, Jim Mizell, Ross Redding, Charles Coleman, Howell Broxton, Judson Bird and manager Norman Johnson.

B basketball: William Tuel, Robert Jacobson, Charles Viorel, Robert Sparrow, William Hall, John Picchi, Carl Morse, Fred Moody and Joseph Colfer.

Wrestling: Joe Vogensen, Henry Lautrup, Paul Seely, John Carter, Robert Noonan, Clifford Craig, Dan Blaga and Dan Parr.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

10:20 a.m., Marin City — Overheated water heater at Unit A31 shut off without damage.

12:58 p.m., Hamilton Air Force Base—"Hot scramble" of aircraft from alert squadron; reason not disclosed; fire truck and ambulance stood by runway in usual "hot scramble" routine.

3:31 p.m., San Anselmo — False alarm to box at Broadmoor and Brookside avenues.

5:50 p.m., San Rafael — False alarm to store room of Payless Drug Co., 866 Fourth street.

Man Under Arrest Tries To Hang Self

A 29-year-old Marin City man, arrested last night by Sausalito police for disturbing the peace and resisting arrest, made an abortive attempt to hang himself while confined to a restraining cell in the Sausalito Police Station.

Johnny Johnson, a house painter of House 284, Marin City, was arrested by Officers David Cooper and John Higgins at the Gold Dust Tavern, 39 Caledonia street, when he became abusive, according to the police report. He fought with the officers but was subdued and taken to the police station.

While officers were in an adjacent room, Johnson slipped off his belt, fashioned a noose around his neck and attached the other end to the ceiling bars, attempting to hang himself, police reported.

Seconds later, Sgt. Stanley Kelly saw Johnson and with the assistance of Officer Cooper, cut him down. He was uninjured and did not require hospitalization. He was booked at the county jail.

Girls Need Diet

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Alpha Chi Omega sorority girls went on a diet en masse today after discovering that only 16 of them could squeeze into one telephone booth.

Mosk Would Plug Loophole In Brown Act

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk today suggested the Legislature act to plug a loophole in California's anti-secrecy law, better known as the Brown Act.

Mosk's office in San Francisco announced the attorney general had written to Ralph Brown, Modesto Democrat who is speaker of the Assembly and author of the Brown Act, suggesting amendment to the act to prevent quickie "personnel sessions" by local governmental boards which might be used as a cover for transacting other business.

Mosk's letter called attention to an opinion issued by his office March 16 in response to a request from the district attorney of San Diego County. It held that the Brown Act provision for 24 hours public notice of a special meeting of any local board could not apply to a secret session to consider charges against personnel, since there would be no point of notifying the public of a session it could not attend.

"As you realize," wrote Mosk, "it is the duty of this office to interpret the law as it exists, which we did in our opinion No. 59/5. However, it is my personal view that this conclusion may well lead to evasion of the secret meeting law by local agencies using 'personnel matters' as a vehicle for dealing with other problems."

He suggested the law be amended to either (a) eliminate the provision for private sessions to discuss hiring or firing personnel or charges against personnel, or (b) to require public notice and a specific agenda for any special meeting. The latter, he suggested, would provide assurance that no problem other than the personnel matter would be discussed at the secret session.

TAX SNARLS UNRAVELED

Tax auditor David U. Tom of the state Franchise Tax Board helps Mrs. Ida May Collins of 190 Tunstead avenue, San Anselmo, to fill out a state income tax return in temporary offices at the San Rafael City Hall. Advice from the expert was available today until 4 p.m. and will be again tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Questions concerning corporation or personal income tax matters are answered without charge. Board Approves Shopping Center

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday gave conditional approval to plans for the first construction phase of a shopping center on the 15-acre Patterson ranch on Novato's Grant avenue.

No debate preceded the unanimous action, which accepted all conditions recommended by the county planning commission.

Among other things, Gerald Hoytt, shopping center developer, must divide the center by building an extension of Seventh street after construction of a supermarket and service station has started.

The extension would link Seventh street with Tamalpais avenue at Novato boulevard, with only two lanes required until the western portion of the center is developed. After that, four lanes would be required. Another condition calls for a public parking ratio of 10 spaces per 1,000 square feet of sales area east of the street extension.

In other matters yesterday the board of supervisors:

1. Granted Werner Tobler an adjustment permitting him, among other things, to sell nursery products and accessory supplies on his property between Tocaloma and Olema on Sir Francis Drake boulevard.

2. Authorized transfer of $7,200 from the unappropriated reserve fund to the county medical department for care of county patients in private convalescent homes. A letter from Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr., medical director, said budgeted funds for such care were nearly exhausted.

3. Instructed County Counsel Leland H. Jordan to draft a new contract between the county and Ross General Hospital for care of tuberculosis patients. County Administrator Donald A. Jensen said it is obvious from competitive bids that Ross Hospital's rate of $350 per month per patient for room and board is "extremely reasonable and economical to the taxpayers of the county, and . . . the high quality of care is indisputable."

4. On recommendation of Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham, voted unanimous opposition to an Assembly bill providing for a class of professional building inspectors under the Business and Professions Code. Brigham said it would strip local jurisdictions of the power to determine qualifications of inspectors.

5. Granted the petition of Patricia Brooks and others for establishment of special zoning regulations in a two-block duplex district on either side of Centro West street, Tiburon.

6. Studied plans of Rudolph G. Theurkaupf for a proposed Marin County exhibit at the State Fair in Sacramento, but postponed action for one week.

7. Approved in principle the basic terms of a proposed agreement between the county and federal government for a post office branch on the county civic center site in Santa Venetia. The county counsel was authorized to resume negotiations with post office officials. Supervisor William D. Fusselman was the lone dissenter.

8. Delayed action for one week on a request from the Marin Church of God for waiver of fees for a charity carnival to be held in Marin City July 24-25.

9. Authorized the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce to enter the winner of its Novato Western Weekend beauty pageant as a Marin County representative in the "Maid of California" contest at the State Fair in Sacramento.

10. Approved the promotion of Deputy Sheriff Ed Levine to sheriff's sergeant.

11. Appropriated $418 for installation of acoustical tile on the ceiling of the press room in the county courthouse.

12. Appointed Charles O. Woodworth to the Homestead Valley Fire Protection District board, Elmer Ray Smith to the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire Protection District board, Manuel Faustine to the Stinson Beach Fire Protection District board and L. F. Kuechler to the Kentfield Fire District board, and reappointed Robert O. Keller to the Sleepy Hollow Fire Protection District board. All were unopposed candidates for board vacancies.

13. Approved a plan to form an assessment district for construction of a small road linking Bret Harte Heights with Greenbrae, permitting access to Sir Francis Drake boulevard. The majority of lots to be assessed are within San Rafael, but several are in unincorporated territory. The project is estimated to cost $6,500.

14. Authorized the county probation officer and one supervisor to travel to Lane County, Ore., to view the newly completed juvenile hall facilities there.

15. Referred to the budget file a request by the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. for a $5,000 budget allocation.

16. Agreed to meet next Tuesday at 3 p.m. with the business enterprise officer for the blind of the State Department of Education.

17. Received an opinion by the county counsel that the county's swimming pool ordinance requiring fencing and protection of private pools has been in effect since last July.

18. Approved appointment of the following: William Allen, key punch operator, data processing, $281 per month; Jetaun Fisher, intermediate typist clerk, sheriff's office, $281, replacing Carol Glander, resigned; Betty Jane Menke, telephone operator-receptionist, sheriff's office, $281, replacing Carol Jordan, resigned; Charles Y. Hammett, heavy equipment operator, public works department, $436; Donald G. Ray, fire warden, Marinwood, $415.

Suits To Bare Congressional Payrolls Filed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Suits seeking to compel the Senate and House to make public all their payroll-expense records were filed today in U.S. District Court.

Vance Trimble, news editor of the Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance, brought the suits. Trimble recently has been digging up stories on such things as a freshman congressman's charging the government rent for office space on his front porch, and lawmakers employing relatives at high salaries.

"The people have the right to know how Congress spends their tax money," Trimble said in a statement.

Trimble said "recent nepotism-payroll abuse disclosures have aroused public indignation." He added that he can find "no existing legislation that forbids the people knowing how this money is spent."

Trimble said the suits are intended "to test whether Congress can maintain a veil of secrecy on records that should be open to the public."

Burglary Suspect Pleads Innocent

A preliminary hearing was to be set today for Michael Robert Parkhurst, 20, who pleaded innocent to burglary of Lou's Service Station in Mill Valley last Sunday.

Parkhurst appeared in Marin Municipal Court yesterday with the deputy public defender and denied the charge.

CANCER CRUSADE UNDER WAY — Mrs. Robertson Ward, president of Marin Branch, American Cancer Society, presents the cancer sword to Dr. Tom Groody, chairman of this year's Marin Crusade. Cook Leaps To Death From Bridge

A 64-year-old San Leandro cook and former East Oakland restaurant owner, Fred (Fritz) A. Meyer, leaped from the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday, according to the California Highway Patrol. He was the 188th known suicide from the span.

His car was found at 5 a.m. today abandoned in the Vista Point parking lot at the Marin end of the bridge by CHP Officer M. R. Doty. A penciled note was written on the back of a small manual:

"Mother, God bless you, all the children and grandchildren. I am no good for you or myself. I can—So I will call this the end. Goodbye. Fritz."

His body, recovered by the Coast Guard after it had been spotted by a bride painter under the span at 2 p.m. yesterday, was identified today by Meyer's son, said CHP Capt. Theodore Parnow. The son said his father left home at 9 a.m. yesterday. He had undergone an operation last December but had recovered, the son said. The CHP had been unable immediately to find any witness to Meyer's presumed leap from the bridge.

Cancer Society Opens Fund Drive In Marin

Marin's crusade to raise $25,000 for the fight against cancer got under way today.

The Marin branch, American Cancer Society, held a kickoff meeting to open cancer month and start its drive for a self-imposed goal 20 per cent more than last year.

Nearly 50 district chairmen and volunteer captains met in the assembly room of the Independent-Journal. Present were Mrs. Elizabeth Ward, president of the Marin Branch, and Dr. Tom Groody, noted television scientist who is chairman of the crusade.

The women saw a film, "The Other City," which details the disappearance of a city of 75,000 persons, the number who die of cancer annually in the United States.

They also received instructions and materials from Harry J. Mack, the branch's executive secretary.

The crusade will build up to a house-to-house canvass of all Marin County on C-Day, April 20, when hundreds of volunteers will participate.

HOSPITAL

Area. He pointed out that the departments at Marin General Hospital that have been paying their own way have not had changes in rates.

The administration report showed the following average monthly losses: Emergency room, $2,545; nursery, $4,089; pediatrics, $4,012, and medical and surgical wards on the second and fourth floors, $2,205.

The pharmacy showed a profit of $4,450 per month; laboratory, $2,664; operating room, $1,204, and delivery room, $1,116.

Dr. Goddard said the hospital managed to come out with the slight profit last year but earnings expected in the latter part of the fiscal year have failed to materialize.

The new rates are set at a level that would try to have the hospital "break even" at an average occupancy of about 80 per cent.

omy and basic education for the children."

Fewer than half the school district's 898 registered voters turned out for the successful tax increase election. Without passage of the $2 rate, the district would have reverted next year to a tax limit of 90 cents per $100 assessed valuation, the state constitutional limit for a district of its size.

In addition to the basic tax rate, the Lagunitas School District collects 10 cents for retirement annuities, contract retirement and community services and 28 cents for bond redemption.

The county board of education will canvass the votes April 10. Lagunitas district trustees will meet next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Lagunitas School.

4 In Fight With Loggers Sentenced

Four East Bay youths, who came out second best in a battle with loggers at Olema, are guilty of liquor possession but innocent of disturbing the peace.

Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Municipal Court yesterday fined William Paul Lipps, 18, of Berkeley, $25, and suspended a $25 fine for each of the other three. Robert A. Fansler, 18, of El Cerrito, and James Michael Cooney, 18, and Stanton G. Friedman, 19 both of Berkeley, were placed on six months' probation. The youths admitted having beer with them when they tangled with the loggers near Sundberg's Inn last March 8.

The judge cleared the boys of disturbing the peace after witnesses presented conflicting testimony. Logger Eule White, 48, said he was in a phone booth when Lipps walked up and ordered him out of the booth. White testified the youth hit him with some object other than a fist.

But Lipps told the judge it was he that was in the phone booth when the logger came up and started banging on the door. Lipps said he had nothing in his hand at the time of the fight.

Clem Miller in San Anselmo Thurs., April 2 1:30 to 2:45

The United States Congress has declared an Easter Recess from March 27th to April 6th. During this interval, Congressman Clem Miller will return to the First District and spend approximately one day in each of the seven counties of the district. Thursday, April 2nd will be his day in Marin. He will be available to meet with any of his constituents who will come to the San Anselmo Post Office, 333 San Anselmo Avenue, Thursday afternoon from 1:30 to 2:45.

At 6:30 in the evening of April 2nd, he will be guest speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Construction Industries Council, Bob's of Marin, Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera. For reservations please call Bill Hendricks, GLenwood 6-1733 or WAbash 4-4852.

JUVENILE

collapsed if bravado had not egged him on.

"As long as I was talking, everyone else was brave. I could have stopped it. I'm sorry I didn't. But never again."

An adult in stature (about 5 feet 9 inches and 160 pounds) but looking less and less like a "ringleader," the subdued Bitters sounded like a mere boy when brought face to face with his friend and former police chief, Mountanos.

As he began fumbling in his shirt for a cigarette, Sheriff Mountanos said quietly: "Do me a favor, Russ. Don't smoke in front of me."

"Oh sure, I'm sorry," the boy apologized as if remembering an old admonition.

"Well, Joseph (Richard Joseph, 17) and I got to talking three days ahead. We didn't want to stay inside for Easter. But the wrong shift came on and so we had to wait to Saturday." (Probation officers said the youths apparently like certain shifts and disliked others.)

Bitters said a friend had yanked an iron bar off the wall where a wrestling mat was hung. He kept the bar in his pocket for about an hour. They saw movies, then went into the television room and sat down. "We made some remarks. Hasson told me to stop, then went into the office. Then he told me to go to my room. I said, 'No.'"

Bitters then noticed Supervisor Joseph De Angelo standing to the side. "I said, 'I want the keys. You give me no trouble and I won't hurt you.' I took his keys. Then I went to the girl's side to stop them from making phone calls. I tried to get Miss (Jacqueline) Johnson's keys. She wouldn't give them to me. She tried to get mine instead. I like her a lot so did not try to take her keys."

Hasson and De Angelo ran up. Bitters and Joseph reached for Hasson's keys.

"I pulled the key off and gave it to Joseph. I kept telling him (Hasson) to march up and be locked up. He kept telling me what I was going to get if I did this. I hit the refrigerator. He kept talking so I hit him. I didn't aim for his head. That's not true."

The boys put the supervisors in an isolation cell and went out the back door, then crawled into a creek.

"In five minutes the whole road was swarming with (police) cars. We worked our way up the road and stayed in a drain under the road for about three hours," related Bitters.

Then the four went to Terra Linda. "We met a guy parked with a girl. He pulled a gun on me so we took off."

Bitters said they noticed a parked car, rolled it down the street and started it. They drove it into the hills above Marin City and spent the first night under the trees. They found one blanket in the car which they used to keep warm.

They made several trips in the stolen car to seek friends for food. They got a can of macaroni and cheese and five slices of bread. Bitters went to his grandfather's and got some Easter eggs and pack of cigarettes.

The next two nights they hid in the Marin City apartment. "We were going to try to get out of the state in a friend's car."

Bitters said Joseph knew of a cave in the area but could not locate it.

Bitters said he knows nothing about two table knives reported missing from juvenile hall. He said he did not take wrist watches or wallets from the staff room. "The only thing I took was my shoes."

Three years ago, he was picked up for threatening another school boy who insulted a girl he knew. Bitters said the boy threatened him with a knife, and so he got a knife himself.

Try Recall, Civic Center Foes Advised

If you don't like the Marin County Civic Center project, why don't you try to recall your county supervisors?

This, in essence, is the suggestion of the state attorney general's office to a newly formed group of some 50 local taxpayers opposed to civic center construction.

The suggestion came to light yesterday when a copy of a letter from Asst. Atty. Gen. E. G. Bernard to John R. Streiff of Greenbrae was passed among the supervisors at their weekly meeting.

Streiff and other members of the anti-civic center group have been bombarding the attorney general's office with letters demanding an investigation of the multi-million-dollar project. Most of the letter writers are employed in the San Francisco office of Fireman's Fund Insurance Co., where the nameless opposition group was organized.

Dated March 19, Bernard's reply to Streiff said, in part:

"This will acknowledge receipt of your further letter of March 17, 1959, concerning the Marin County Civic Center.

"The only further suggestion we can make to you and the rest of your group who have written so many letters to us on this subject (most of which have been on the same kind of stationery and typed on the same typewriter) is that if you do not agree with the policy being pursued by the board of supervisors, you may desire to initiate recall proceedings."

Bernard went on to cite the state Election Code sections concerning procedures required for a recall movement.

Amelia C. Medeiros Dies In Novato Home At Age 41

Mrs. Amelia C. Medeiros, a resident of Novato for 13 years, died yesterday at her home at 320 Olive avenue after long illness. She was 41.

Mrs. Medeiros was a native of Martha's Vineyard, Mass. She was a member of the Brotherhood of St. Anthony Society in Novato.

Survivors include her husband, James Medeiros, a contract hauler of grain and hay; a daughter, Elaine Medeiros, 14, a student at Hill Street School; two sons, Gilbert Medeiros, 20, and James Medeiros Jr., 18, both students at University of San Francisco; two sisters, Mrs. Charlotte Ferrara of Albany, Contra Costa County, and Mrs. Mary Coleho of Massachusetts; two brothers, Joseph Cardoza of Albany and Manuel Cardoza of Massachusetts.

A Requiem Mass will be recited at 9 a.m. Friday at Our Lady of Loretto Church, Novato. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato. A memorial service will be conducted by the Brotherhood of St. Anthony Society at the chapel immediately after recitation of the Rosary.

Interment will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

IMPORTED DELICACIES FOR STATE FISH

Nine cartons of Japanese smelt eggs arrived at San Francisco International Airport yesterday, the last shipment of 1,800,000 eggs received by the state Department of Fish and Game and destined eventually to provide food for fish in Northern and Central California. The eggs will be hatched at hatchery at Sacramento, then the smelt will be turned loose in reservoirs, lakes and streams. Examining one of the cartons are David Onizuka and airline stewardesses Masae Imaizumi and Mihoko Ema. (AP Wirephoto)

Demo Coalition Wins Control In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A coalition of Democratic factions won control of the city government yesterday, overthrowing the non-partisan organization which smashed the Pendergast machine in 1940.

The Democratic coalition won five seats on the eight-member city council and ended 19 years of government by the Citizens Assn., an organization of Democrats, Republicans and independents.

It was the first defeat ever suffered by the association, formed specifically to challenge the underworld-infested machine of the late Tom Pendergast.

The Citizens Assn. ran on its record, claiming numerous civic improvements and a scandal-free administration. Association candidates said a coalition victory would mean a return of underworld influence.

Higher taxes, real and proposed, apparently played a primary role in the association's defeat. Plagued by inadequate revenue, the association supported a proposed earnings tax two years ago. Voters defeated it in a special election by a wide margin. The council then levied several nuisance taxes to get needed revenue.

Th coalition turned the taxes into a major campaign issue.

SLEEPING VIRUSES?

Cancer Seeds May Be Passed By Heredity

By JOHN BARBOUR

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—The seeds of cancer may lurk in your body—an unwanted gift planted perhaps as long as 100,000 years ago in the cells of an ancestor.

Only a few such seeds among the trillions of cells of your body could start deadly, uncontrolled cancer.

As these seeds—perhaps sleeping viruses—were passed on generation to generation they may have awakened from time to time, bringing a sudden and unexpected cancer attack.

This is a theory expressed at this week's American Cancer Society seminar on cancer research and progress by Dr. Ludwig Gross, cancer unit chief of the Veterans Administration Hospital, Bronx, N. Y.

These sleeping viruses somehow hitchhike a ride through the centuries with the genes of the cell—getting passed along with inherited factors from one generation to the next, Dr. Gross suggested.

What awakens the deadly virus?

Radiation—the chance hit of an atomic ray—might provide the trigger. Or some chemical poison unrecognized as dangerous might do the trick.

Dr. Gross has succeeded in following inherited leukemia through only a few generations of mice.

But he feels the theory explains why cancer seems to strike so often within certain families.

Describing his work on mouse leukemia, Dr. Gross told of a mystery gland and the strange role it plays in cancer of the blood and blood-producing areas of the body.

The mystery gland is the thymus. In humans this little gland in the chest seems to have no function after birth.

But in mice stricken with leukemia, removal of the thymus means survival. Some mice were intentionally infected with leukemia and then operated on for removal of the thymus. They never developed the disease.

It is possible that the thymus is the target of the leukemia-causing virus, Dr. Gross said. The thymus may be the nest where the virus multiplies.

Retaliation

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Ward Schlacter, 25, disturbed a raccoon when he ran wiring through a crawl space under his house to rig up a hi-fi radio set. A few days later the raccoon apparently retaliated by ripping out those and other wires and plunging the house into darkness.

The average life span of a house mouse is four years, of a cottonmouth moccasin 21 years, an elephant 69 years and a giant tortoise 152 years.

6 Die, Scores Hurt As Tornadoes Hit

HILLSBORO, Tex. (UPI) — At least eight tornadoes hit sleeping communities and homes over a front hundreds of miles long in Texas and Oklahoma last night.

They killed at least six persons and injured 67 others, four of them critically.

A tornado that hit two communities between Hillsboro and Waco, in central Texas, was worse than the other seven combined. It accounted for all of the six dead and 38 of the injured.

That tornado blew an automobile from the road, killing Mrs. C. B. Bruner, 27, wife of a James Connally Air Force Base flight surgeon. It injured her husband and two children.

It drove so many splinters into the body of A. Lee Harris, 71, of Bynum, Tex., that doctors said he looks like a "pin cushion."

The twister destroyed or damaged an estimated 75 homes and other buildings between Hillsboro and Waco. A refuge for the homeless was set up in the First Baptist Church in Hillsboro.

The other tornadoes, and damage and casualties they inflicted included:

Henderson, Tex.—None injured. A garage and a home destroyed and trees plucked up by their roots.

Perrin Air Force Base, Tex. —A tornado touched ground, but no injuries or damage reported.

Silver City, Okla. — Six injured, one seriously.

Terlton, Okla.—Damage but no casualties reported.

Morrison, Okla. — Damage but no casualties reported.

Rock Creek Lodge Resort—Four injured but none seriously.

4 Believed Dead In AF Tanker Crash

Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin, Tex., south of here, said the four-engined jet normally carried a crew of four.

It refused to identify the crew members or give any other details.

The plane was on a flight from Bergstrom, where it is based and used to refuel B52s in flight, and was scheduled to return to Bergstrom.

A. W. Stewart, KLEN newsman here, said the plane burner fiercely, consuming an acre or two of cedar brush.

Stewart said the plane wreckage was charred and strewn over a wide area. He said there were bodies, but they "are torn up and burned so badly it's impossible to tell how many."

Marin Isn't Only Place Where School Costs Jump

Spending on the education of American young people is taking at least $20 billion out of the pockets of taxpayers and parents in the current academic year. The total national bill for public and private education has jumped from $14 billion to $20 billion in only three years, and the forecasters say it will go on up to at least $30 billion by the mid-1960s.

This is plainly something more than a result of creeping price inflation. The reasons why school costs are going up much faster than other costs are not hard to find. There are more children to educate than there used to be; more of them are finishing high school and going to college; and more money is being spent on each pupil. All this requires more buildings and more teachers. And salaries of teachers have had to be raised. In the end, the additions along the whole line translate into dollars—billions of them.

A few figures demonstrate why the costs of education are rising so rapidly. Total school enrollment, nationally from kindergarten through college, has shot up in five years from 36 million to 43 million. The proportion of children 14 to 17 years old who are in school has risen from 79 to 90 per cent since 1940, and in the same period the proportion of young people 18-24 years old who are in school or college has risen from 13 to 22 per cent. Average expenditures per pupil in public schools have increased in ten years by 72 per cent. Average salaries of classroom teachers have gone up nationally 75 per cent in ten years.

Costs of education could not go up the way they have, however good the reasons, without stirring strong opposition. Much of the controversy now is over the amount of spending necessary to maintain educational facilities of high quality and over the extent to which higher education should be subsidized. Some persons insist that a good deal of school money is going into luxury facilities and frill courses not essential to a good education. Others question the advisability of trying to give a full high school education to pupils obviously not equipped to benefit from it.

That's the picture nationally. Here in Marin we can take comfort perhaps in the fact that our problems along these lines are not unique. Almost everybody else in the U.S.A. is facing a similar situation with regard to education costs.

What's This? Bush Elephant?

The Marin County Bush Elephant is one of the shiest of our county's wild creatures. Rarely seen, this small (3 feet tall at the shoulders) beast is nocturnal in habit and is known for the strange noises it makes in the night. A low whistling sound.

Omniverous, it thrives on poison oak and oysters which it crushes shell and all in its powerful teeth. The poison oak provides roughage and helps reload the poisonous stinger in this strange animal's tail. The sting of a full grown bush elephant is exceedingly painful, but rarely fatal. He resorts to this powerful weapon only when wounded or cornered.

Hated by the oyster farmer for its depredations in the oyster beds, this clumsy beast nevertheless is an ideal father, caring lovingly for his children, bringing them the most succulent poison oak and training them in the proper use of their stingers.

During their mating season this first week in April they are at their most bold and dangerous time. During this week they will be seen by a number of people deep in their cups and by some April Fools.

Life Can Get Complicated, Says Art Carney, 'But Why Let It?'

NEW YORK (AP)—"Life can get awful complicated if you let it," said Art Carney. "But why let it?"

Carney now is riding a one-man success wave in television. But it has stirred a minimum of echoes in his home life.

When the studio lights die down after a performance, Carney heads for his 55-by-100-foot plot in suburban Yonkers, where he and his wife, Jean, and their three children live quietly.

"We have a nice family life, and we want to keep it that way," said Art. "My wife and I live in the same kind of neighborhood we both were born in, and most of our close friends live in the neighborhood. Our life isn't all show business."

Carney is a friendly, easy-talking man off camera. But he has always shown a stubborn insistence in working toward his own goals. During a break in rehearsals for his show, he talked of his start in the business.

"I always was a loner," he said. "In high school I would have been frightened at the idea of joining a dramatic society. But I enjoyed working out my own act—tap dancing and impressions — which I did at school affairs."

Art spent some years as a novelty band singer and club entertainer before going into radio, determined to become an actor.

The war slowed him for a time. He went into the Army a private, and came out a corporal.

"I STILL GET $55 a month from the government for my bum leg," he said. "And I can still use it."

Carney has never had a real television show of his own, and says he isn't in any hurry for one. He has been signed to do eight special shows next season, ranging from revues to straight drama and children's programs.

"I PREFER IT that way, rather than doing a straight comedy series," Art said. "I like to do a little bit of everything."

Asked his personal philosophy, Art said:

"Once, while walking a country churchyard, I came across a gravestone that said: 'She lived not for herself but for others.'

"It has stuck in my mind ever since. It is so true. I don't know anyone who is unselfish, who is always thinking of others, who is personally unhappy. It is impossible."

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

Facilities at Camp Tamarancho would soon be open to Cub Scouts, it was announced by Carlton Cherry, camp committee chairman. The campsite is south of White's Hill summit.

Measles cases rose to the highest mark in the history of communicable diseases in Marin County, according to Dr. Irving D. Johnson, county health officer, who said 103 cases had been reported the previous week.

20 YEARS AGO

One of the largest rural real estate deals in Marin County in many years took place when the O. L. Shafter estate on Pt. Reyes peninsula was sold. James Kehoe and James McClure purchased the farms upon which they resided. Balance of the more than 10,000 acres was bought by Wolf and Kilkearny of San Francisco, who planned to resell most of the farms and develop and subdivide the Shell Beach area along Tomales Bay.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Now Is Time To Plan Survival Kit

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It seems essential that we put our heads together now and get a survival kit in the basement. It is cheap insurance considering the rate at which the odds for war are increasing.

SURVIVAL KIT

1—Basement, or a hole, at least, under the house; or a hole in nearby lot. If no nearby lot — too bad.

2—A shovel for digging holes in hole under house for sanitary facilities and garbage disposal, or for burrowing deeper. Since there won't be much else to do, this will

3—Food, canned, enough for four to eight weeks until rainfall has reduced contamination.

4—Water, plenty; suggest three quarts per day per person.

5—Geiger Counter, small, good for checking cracks and when safe to go out again.

7—Aluminum foil, to cover windows or cracks and lining underwear before venturing outdoors. Suggest at least six rolls.

8—Light, candles or kerosene lanterns to prevent waiting week after week in darkness; very depressing.

9—Books, Bible perhaps, if available; otherwise detective or mystery stories. Also classics we have never read yet.

10—Games, like brushing teeth and shaving. Keep chin up, stay cheerful and keep minds stimulated. If you made the hole it could be worse.

11—Clothing; wife should keep at least two, perferably three surprise changes of clothing to buck up morale of husband. Keep extra wash water with detergent soap so no rinse will be necessary and make water last long time.

12—Cots, plenty, also blankets. Good sleep cannot be had on concrete floor or dirt furrow; heat probably will not be handy.

13—First aid kit, sulpha ointment and asprin; you positively will not be able to run upstairs to bathroom.

14—Seeds for planting, in uncontaminated soil after you emerge; you may have to raise your own. Suggest green or waz beans. If you live in North, make speedy migration South where food may be grown all year around. Soy beans contain many food elements and high yield, taste foul but you won't mind.

These are a few ideas. Readers may supply others.

Racial Prejudice Insidious Disease

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

A little late, I just picked up last Friday's paper (March 20) and read your editorial about the lady who was refused rental because she was Oriental.

Of course, from any point of view, racial prejudice cannot be reasonably or logically defended: it is purely emotional and entirely subjective. To find the powerful voice of the influential Independent-Journal raised in an effort to help cure this insidious disease that afflicts the American people, is a profoundly encouraging thing. All I can say is, I love you.

PLOTTING NEVER CEASES

Iran May Be Next Soviet Target In Middle East

By PHIL NEWSOM

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI) — The next Soviet target in the Middle East could be Iran.

Here in Turkey, in the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria, in Lebanon and even in Baghdad it is agreed that the battle for the Middle East is just beginning.

And as communism spreads its tentacles across Iraq, neighboring Iran is a natural target. It becomes the more so in light of the growing enmity between President Gamal Abdel Nasser's UAR and the Soviet Union.

For with Syria firmly in Nasser's grasp, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev loses his chance for a Mediterranean port. Therefore, he might decide it is time for a flanking action, driving toward the Persian Gulf.

Such an idea would not be new to the Russians.

IN 1940, DURING the brief period of friendship between Russia and Hitler's Germany, the Russians candidly described the "area south of Batum and Baku in the general direction of the Persian Gulf" as the center of Soviet aspirations.

Here in Istanbul, responsible Turks believe the Western powers may not be sufficiently impressed with the Soviet southward threat or with the historic reality of Soviet aspirations.

It would not be hard to convince many here that the Soviet Mideastern threat is a greater one than the Soviet threat to West Berlin.

THREE PASSES split the mountains dividing Iraq and Iran and provide the only feasible land routes between them.

The Iraqi Army's Second Division is spread out across Northern Iraq guarding those passes. But at most it is a token show of force because no one expects an invasion from Iran.

But Iran itself could be invaded, not from the south but from the north.

It need not necessarily be a military invasion. The Russians had a military foothold in Iran after World War II and held it until the force of world opinion marshaled by the United Nations pushed them out.

The weapon used could be the same weapon being used today in Iraq.

A sudden coup toppled Iraq's King Feisal before the Western World scarcely knew what had happened. Then the Communists moved in to the point where many in the Middle East believe it will be almost impossible to oust them.

The Communist Tudeh Party in Iran is outlawed. But its strength remains and it has never ceased its plotting.

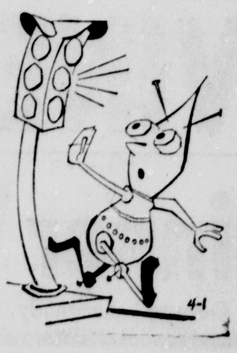
If you can stand any more of those stories of outer-space robots landing on earth and demanding audience with kings, queens, hydrants, pinball machines and what-not, there's a new one about the Martian who caught his first glance of a blinker light at an intersection. A crafty look came into his metallic eyes. "Oh, no, you don't," he chuckled, "my mother warned me in advance about dames like you."



Howard Lindsay tells about a Hollywood star and his wife who rented a farm for a summer vacation in Vermont. They loved everything about it. To accommodate visitors, they built an extra washroom in a shack in the back garden. They returned happily a year later, but alas! the extra washroom had disappeared.

The farmer was apologetic but firm. "I had to take it down," he admitted. "The neighbors began saying I had gone high-hat."

We Have Proof We Can Make Rain; But We'll Share Secret With You

WE ARE ABOUT to hang out our shingle in the rainmaker business.

Over the past weekend, after contemplating the job through a long period of dry weather, we undertook to cut a hole in the roof of a shed in our back yard, to install a required chimney.

The skies, which had smiled so benignly for many a week, promptly clouded up and rained — aiming, so far as we could determine, squarely at the hole in our roof.

On reflection, we find that this qualifies us as expert in the rainmaker field.

Henceforth, farmers, water district officials and casual weekend gardeners will find us available, at a fairly stiff fee, for the production of rain as required.

We have reduced the matter to a formula. Details are of course confidential, as it is well known that weather data is classified for reasons of national security, and anyway, it is a trade secret.

We will, however, disclose the general outline of our formula. For persons desiring a moderate, or lawn-watering, shower, we will cut a six-inch hole in our roof. Results guaranteed.

For Messrs. Seeger, Brusatori, et al of the Marin Municipal Water District, in search of a reservoir-filling downpour, we will — naturally at a somewhat stiffer rate — cut a 12-inch hole in the roof. Infallible.

Anybody who wants hail can have it. Square hole in roof.

ONE PROBLEM remains — skiers who want snow will eventually be accommodated, but here our formula is not yet quite clear.

We are, as they say in governmental circles, implementing our research through exposure to practical experience — in other words, cutting various size and shape holes in the roof to see what happens.

We visualize a great future for our enterprise. Brisk competitive bidding among gardeners who want showers to water the yard, Seeger who wants his reservoirs filled, skiers who want powder snow in May and so on.

We could, and would like to go on at greater length about this, but the fact is we've got to step out back and patch up a hole in the roof of our shed.

THIS IS April Fool's Day, and we should make some fitting comment on this fact, but none comes readily to mind. We are, instead, concentrating on our column of a week from today, April 8.

This, as everybody knows, is the 121st anniversary of the day when the ship Great Western, 236 feet long, 450 horsepower, 1,340 gross tons, left Bristol, England.

Heaven only knows why.

The 1959 World Almanac merely notes that it left Bristol, England. And that on April 23 it arrived in New York City.

We plan to have a full account of this epic event next Wednesday.

AFTER A COLUMN like this, we also plan to visit the classified ad department early tomorrow and insert the following:

"RAINMAKER — Precipitation produced per prerequisite. Please pay promptly."

Capital Columnist Gets Word Of Brown Ambitions From Roger Kent

WASHINGTON—"We think California has always thrown in its hand too early, in past national conventions."

The remark has a sinister ring for non-Californian Democratic candidates hoping for California delegates. It was made by one of the revivors of the California Democracy, Roger Kent, who is now chairman of the northern half of the state organization. It announces, in clear terms, what may be called the serious dark horse candidacy of California Gov. Pat Brown for the Democratic presidential nomination.

THERE IS THE widest difference, of course, between an ordinary dark horse and a serious dark horse. Just about every senator and governor in both parties is an ordinary dark horse, if he is not an avowed candidate.

To be a serious dark horse, however, you have to be solemnly convinced that you really can slip past the front-runners and win in the stretch. You have to own some delegates who will assist you in this delicate operation. And you have to have a theory about how you can use your delegate strength.

Gov. Brown, it is clear, now passes all three of these interesting tests. The development began to be suspected when he came to Washington to speak at the Gridiron Dinner, and stayed on to make the formal round of the other Democratic candidates who now form such a rank local growth. The reality of the development has since been confirmed by visiting Brown henchmen, among whom Roger Kent was the most significant.

THE BROWN THEORY is simple. California's political importance has grown greatly since the days when the Republicans foolishly underrated the vote-getting possibilities of Earl Warren.

California law requires California convention delegates to stay with the man they are pledged to until he releases them. A favorite son delegation pledged to Brown is being prepared. Hence the governor will also have the means to be insistent. Brown is further reported to believe that neither of the active Democratic candidates, Sens. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Humphrey of Minnesota, is going to be nominated in the end. If Kennedy and Humphrey fail, the Brown argument is said to run, the convention will then look at the inactive-active candidate, Sen. Symington of Missouri, and the inactive but available candidate, Sen Johnson of Texas. But neither Symington nor Johnson can hope to carry California, according to Brown. So why not Brown as the next choice?

If the Governor really has the guts to hold out the huge California delegation for ballot after ballot, in the manner above-indicated, it will matter a great deal to the other candidates, even if the Brown theory utterly fails to work. The front-runners, and especially Sen. Kennedy, will not be able to look to California to put them over. By the same token, the other inactive but available candidate, Adlai Stevenson, is just as likely as Brown — indeed a good deal more likely as of now — to benefit from a successfully executed stop-everybody-else plan. That fact certainly cannot be absent from the minds of the rather numerous California Democrats who are Brown supporters, but Stevenson enthusiasts too.

Khrushchev Farm Blunder Nearly Ended His Career

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Foreign News Analyst

Nikita Khrushchev planted himself in the middle of a field, surrounded by awed farmers and Communist functionaries. A brisk breeze fanned the wisps of white hair on his nearly naked head.

"Here," exclaimed Khrushchev, pointing dramatically to the corn "is the complete sausage on the handle! Here is beefsteak; here is bacon! How will these plants look in a month and a half, when harvest comes? The cobs will be half a yard long. Now you understand why I am so enthusiastic about corn!"

This was the Khrushchev of recent vintage. Khrushchev the boss. He spoke about the pressing need for animal fodder. Who would dare remind him that his own experimenting in the past had gravely endangered the U.S.S.R.'s livestock population?

Khrushchev owed much of his career to his interest in agriculture and his knowledge of the farmer. Boss at last, he could talk confidently about his big ideas. It hadn't been so in the past. His first big idea about farming, in fact, almost cost him his head.

As a member of Stalin's inner Politburo and chief of the Ukraine, Khrushchev conceived the idea of revolutionizing collective farming.

Farms, said Khrushchev, would be transformed into agricultural factories. Farmers would become farm industry workers. Small collectives would be merged on a vast scale into huge farm factories.

Khrushchev's real goal, inspired by Stalin, was to abolish all private plots, the kitchen gardens of the peasants. He would build instead communal agregereds—farm cities.

He reckoned without the peasants. There was grumbling, resentment, even resistance. He pushed through thousands of amalgamations, but suddenly Stalin halted the program.

The coal miner from Kursk listened in silence at the 20th Communist Congress in October, 1952. Georgi Malenkov, Stalin's dour right hand, referred to Khrushchev as one of "our individual executive workers" who erred in trying to force farm consolidation.

"They tried," thundered Malenkov, "to bring about at a forced tempo the mass resettlement of villages in large collective settlements, to demolish old collective farm installations and homes of collective farmers, to create instead agregereds."

But Khrushchev had bounce. Despite this awesome blast, he emerged from the 1952 congress a member of the expanded Presidium which supplanted the Politburo, and a member of an expanded party secretariat.

Malenkov would live to rue his words. Long after Stalin's death, Khrushchev would revert to 1952 and blame Malenkov for the sorry state of Soviet agriculture then. He would succeed in having Malenkov thrown out of the hierarchy.

Shortly after the 1952 congress, the lives of all Politburo members were in grave danger. Stalin, to quote a diplomat of the day, had "reached for the bottle again." A new blood purge was in the making. Stalin's assistants fabricated a fantastic story about a plot of doctors to poison Stalin and other leading figures.

Luckily for the Politburo—some say it was more than coincidence—Stalin died in March, 1953. Stalin's body was not cold before the plotting began.

Malenkov took both of Stalin's jobs: Premier and first party secretary, in control of both party and government. Within two weeks, Khrushchev nudged Malenkov from the party job.

Those were nervous days. The new leadership, calling itself "collective," felt impelled to promise abundance to the long-suffering public. The whole fantastic story of the doctors' plot was reversed. But not for three years did the Soviet public learn why.

At the 1956 congress, Khrushchev sobbed out the terrifying story. Not a man on the Politburo had been safe, he recalled, after an obscure Dr. Timashuk unfolded her tale of the plot.

Khrushchev blamed the whole thing on a letter written by this doctor to Stalin in which she declared "that doctors were applying supposedly improper methods of medical treatment."

"Such a letter was enough for Stalin to reach the immediate conclusion that there were doctor-plotters in the Soviet Union," said Khrushchev. "Stalin personally called the investigating judge and gave him instructions, advising him which investigative methods should be used. These methods were simple: Beat, beat and once again beat."

So much for the man who was, for so many years, Nikita Khrushchev's "great genius leader and teacher." Khrushchev's own methods were to seem more refined by comparison.

Tomorrow: Waiting for the shrimp to whistle.

Formosa Says Lama Safe, Leading Revolt

NEW DELHI (UPI)—The official Chinese Nationalist Central News Agency said today the Dalai Lama has reached a safe place in Tibet and is personally leading the revolt against the Chinese Communists.

Reports in Taipei newspapers said the Nationalist air force was airdropping encouraging leaflets and minor supplies—"comfort items" such as toothbrushes, towels, etc.,—to the rebels and planned to fly in Nationalist officials to help the rebels.

There was no word however that arms, ammunition, signal equipment and other military supplies promised by the Nationalists were being parachuted to the rebels. There also was no indication whether Nationalist planes were flying extremely long range missions from Formosa or were operating from friendly southeast Asian countries.

There still was no official report on the whereabouts of the Dalai Lama, believed in southern Tibet near the Indian border. Dispatches from Kalimpong on the Indo-Tibetan frontier said Chinese Communists were searching for him with planes and troops.

Big 4 Ministers Continue Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Western Big Four foreign ministers met again today in efforts to work out a bargaining position in forthcoming talks with Russia on Berlin and Germany.

The representatives of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany resumed their talks this morning in a conference room at the State Department.

Officials said they planned to tackle the tough problem of the kind of deal to offer Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on Berlin's future should the Russians insist on showdown negotiations immediately.

They also were scheduled to consider the general problem of European security. Officials said they faced the necessity of narrowing their differences over whether to negotiate separate security and disarmament agreements with Russia if the Kremlin refuses to tie these solutions into a general German reunification plan, as the allies would like.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and West German Foreign Minister Henrich von Brentano arrived a few minutes early for the scheduled meeting with Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter.

While awaiting the arrival of French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, Brentano and Lloyd had coffee in the executive dining room on the fifth floor. The Frenchman arrived just before the scheduled meeting time and the four ministers then gathered in the conference room.

Officials said the allies also must wrestle at sessions today with the question of whether to try to negotiate separate agreements with Russia on security and arms reduction if the Kremlin refuses to tie such pacts into a long-range plan for German unification.

Indonesian Chief Reported Ailing

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — President Achmad Sukarno, 58-year-old leader of this young Asian republic, is ailing, informed sources said today. He is reported suffering from kidney stones and there was speculation he may have cancer.

The sources said Sukarno is planning to undergo a medical checkup, as a minimum precaution, and possibly an exploratory operation, during his lengthy foreign tour starting April 23 that will take him through four continents.

Spaak Decries Lack Of NATO Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak says the real weakness of the Atlantic Alliance is a lack of unity among its 15 sovereign members.

Spaak cited as one example France's atomic work, on which he said France is spending billions of francs to find information its allies already know.

Spaak expressed his views in an article in the current issue of the magazine Foreign Affairs. A three-time prime minister of Belgium, Spaak moved to the top NATO staff job in 1957. He is due in Washington today for the Atlantic Pact organization's 10th anniversary meeting.

Spaak called NATO a flourishing organization which he credited with halting Soviet expansion in Europe. However, he said, "common-sense solutions seem to be running head on into stubborn forces of nationalism and individualism within the alliance."

Disease Threat Follows Floods In Madagascar

TANANARIVE, Madagascar (UPI)—A mounting danger from cholera and the plague faced residents of this flood-stricken island today where 50,000 are homeless and more than 3,000 have died.

Prime Minister Philibert Tsiranana said the toll from five successive typhoons may well be over an estimated 3,000 dead.

He said anything like an accurate estimate was impossible since the torrential rains and floods wiped out nearly all communications over four-fifths of the 1,000-mile-long island, 260 miles off the southeast coast of Africa.

"Tens of thousands of homeless villagers are camping out on the high ground," the premier said.

He said Frenche military transport planes which had been flying supplies to isolated groups of refugees were being held up for lack of parachutes.

Tsiranana said there was mounting danger of "the two scourges which accompany catastrophes: Cholera and the plague."

Joseph W. West, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. West of Hamilton Air Force Base was graduated from recruit training March 27 at the San Diego Naval Training Center.

Mexico Says Russ Agitated Rail Strike

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico has ordered two Soviet Embassy attaches expelled from the country, charging they had a hand in the Easter weekend rail strike. Two other Red attaches were reported marked to go.

An official source said the second secretary of the Soviet Embassy, Nicolai M. Remisov, and a military-naval attache, Nicolai V. Asenov, were given until Friday to get out of the country. They reportedly plan to take a Canadian airliner Friday morning to Toronto.

Two members of a diplomatic mission from an unidentified Soviet satellite also were reported to have been declared no longer welcome in Mexico. There was speculation they were Czechoslovak or Polish.

The strike fizzled Monday after the government had rounded up an estimated 3,000 leftist union leaders and followers. The government said it had evidence the strike was a Communist plot.

Workers flocked to their jobs yesterday and officials said 140 trains were back on the run. Many of the workers said they had been coerced into striking by threats of torture or reprisals against their families.

Real Estate Views And Values

At last, thought John, we can buy a brand-new car. Maybe a red one with a black top. All the latest gadgets. Think of the places they could go. And consider what an impression it would make on their friends (and strangers alike).

But Betty too had her dreams. Now they had the down payment for a home of their own.

Jack Miller

What a joy that would be. Their very own home to decorate and fix up to suit their way of life. No more moving. A permanent address. A place for the kids to play. A home to entertain in. The whole family would enjoy it—and their friends too.

Then came the explosion! A hot argument. Tears. Nearly blows.

John tried to cool down by reading. He picked up a Better Homes and Garden magazine. His eyes spotted an interesting ad. And the headline ran "Buy a home first. It's your only real security."

The message sunk in. John pondered. That's true, he thought. Betty's right. We'll get a nice home of our own. It's the smart thing to do. Better for the whole family.

Well, they bought a cute place in Mill Valley. Now they're both as pleased as a 2-year-old with a new toy.

Bay Authority Bill Stalled In Senate

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—The proposed consolidation of Bay Area bridges, airports and seaports into a Golden Gate Authority was temporarily stalled yesterday in the Senate Transportation Committee.

Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy's bill to create the authority (SB 576) was given a three-hour hearing in which it was praised, dubbed a "headless monster," called an attempt to put control of the bay in the hands of bay people, and condemned as taking power away from the people.

In the end the committee postponed decision on the bill, pending an additional hearing in two weeks.

Edgar F. Kaiser, president of the Bay Area Council, told the committee the authority provides an opportunity for "a planned, better future." Under it "the Bay Area can resolve its transportation problems which until now have threatened to stifle and choke off its economic greatness."

But there were other witnesses more hostile.

Sen. John W. Holmdahl of Oakland called the authority a "headless monster with tremendous power and little or no responsibility." He urged election, rather than appointment of directors.

Everett Lampson, Sonoma supervisor, declared the people of Sonoma, Napa, Mendocino and Del Norte Counties would have powers they now have over the Golden Gate Bridge taken away from them, by the authority although they helped finance and are responsible for the span.

Don London, bridge district president, testified that the directors are pledged to have the Golden Gate span toll free as soon as the bonds are paid off. An authority would have to keep tolls on in order to finance other structures, he said.

Dudley W. Frost, executive director of the Port of Oakland, objected to inclusion of the port's successful operation leaving "our future development to others."

Dr. John F. Sly of Princeton University, who helped draft the bill, reviewed the history of the New York Port Authority and testified he believes similar good would result in the Bay Area from the proposed authority here.

There were indications throughout the hearing that some members of the committee are considering sending the proposal to another interim committee study. The present proposal came out of a similar study by McCarthy's Interim Committee on Bay Area Problems.

Neighbor Charges Inn Manager

George Shields, manager of the Flamingo Inn at 2007 Bridgeway, Sausalito, was arrested Monday on charges of disturbing the peace preferred by his next-door neighbor, Mrs. Marion Cox.

Mrs. Cox, proprietor of the Mustard Seed, an antique shop adjacent to the restaurant, had Shields placed under arrest, charging he had called her filthy names.

Sausalito Police Chief Howard W. Goerndt said the arrest climaxed a series of incidents between the two. Mrs. Cox has frequently complained of disturbances at the inn, said Goerndt.

Language School Graduates Marinite

Sp./4 Theodore Cody, son of Mrs. Ruth P. Cody of 27 Locust avenue, Larkspur, was graduated yesterday from the Czech language department of the Army Language School in Monterey.

Trained under the Army's intensive program for overcoming a critical shortage of skilled linguists, Specialist Cody is now prepared to act as an interpreter or translator.

Arithmetic Experiment Scheduled

Sausalito School District trustees have decided to experiment with a new approach to elementary school arithmetic instruction.

The method, devised by G. Cuisenaire of Belgium, utilizes a kit of colored devices and rods as a part of the teaching process. It is to be used in an arithmetic class at the Marin City School taught by Mrs. Marie Hanson.

The trustees, meeting Monday, agreed to acquire four sets of materials for the program and to observe results after six weeks of experimentation.

Trustees also:

1. Voted to continue negotiations with Reed Union School on a possible five-year inter-district agreement for pupils living on Angel Island. The Sausalito district has been providing facilities on a one-year agreement basis.
2. Decided to have Supt. Marcus Davis and a board member continue discussions with the Marin County Housing Authority connected with the decreased assessment of Marin City as a result of redevelopment.
3. Granted a year's maternity leave to Mrs. Jane Pokorny, music teacher.

Romney, W. Va., changed hands 56 times between Union and Confederate forces during the Civil War.

Mountanos Picks 100 As Special Deputies

About 100 special deputies, sworn in under new Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, will meet about twice a year to get training in law enforcement.

The sheriff has nearly completed picking his specials, responsible citizens ready for call to help regulars in time of need such as disasters and riots. The special deputies live in various parts of the county to give complete coverage from the Sonoma County line to Golden Gate Bridge.

WEAR STARS

All specials have identification cards from Sheriff Mountanos and are allowed to wear stars and have a concealed weapon permit. The new special deputies replace the 250 who were sworn in under former Sheriff David Menary.

CARDS EXPIRE

All identification cards for special deputies issued under Sellmer and Menary have expired. The new sheriff starts out with his new group of about 100 for his first four years in office.

Sheriff Mountanos explained that the purpose of special deputies is to be on call to work with regular deputies in time of need. Resident deputies in outlying areas like Stinson Beach, Inverness and Novato know they have specials living in their areas on whom they can count for aid. Specials are volunteers who serve without pay.

GROUPS DEPUTIZED

In addition to the 100 individuals, the sheriff is deputizing members of organizations like the police departments of all cities, Sheriff's Posse, Air Patrol, Underwater and Sea Rescue, Marine Patrol, Junior Rifle Team instructors and the 4-M Women's Mounted Patrol.

Special deputies will have no special privileges, the sheriff stressed. Sheriff Mountanos said he plans to notify all police departments and regular deputies that all law violators are to be treated alike, whether they carry special sheriff's badges or not. In other words, there will be no "badge flashing" to skirt the law, he said.

Harbor Finance Bill Approved

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gasoline taxes paid by power boat owners should build harbors, not highways, says Sen. John J. Hollister (D-Goleta).

His bill to divert $750,000 a year from the state highway fund for small craft harbor development was approved yesterday by the Senate Transportation Committee.

Hollister says the highway fund actually owes boat owners more than three million dollars a year in unclaimed gas tax refunds. The money now is used for highway construction.

Electricity Can Flow To Seminary Site

Let there be light, Marin's county supervisors told the Baptists yesterday.

And there will be light soon at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary's new five-and-one-half-million dollar campus on Strawberry Point.

But for a while yesterday it looked as though the seminary would have to get along without electricity for many months.

USE PERMIT TERMS

Under the terms of a use permit granted last July, occupancy of the seminary is prohibited until plans and specifications for a circulation road are approved by the county and a bond is posted guaranteeing completion of the road within two years.

So far, the Baptists have come forth with neither plans nor bond.

Meanwhile, construction has progressed to the point where the electricity can be turned on. The electrical subcontractor wants to try it out.

The hitch came three weeks ago when Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham held that turning on the electricity constitutes occupancy. And occupancy, he reminded Dr. Harold K. Graves, seminary president, is forbidden until the road requirements are met.

NEED ELECTRICITY

"It would be tragic if we could not have electricity soon," Dr. Graves told the supervisors yesterday. "It's just a matter of checking the lines and keeping them hot."

After nearly an hour of debate, the board authorized the flow of electrical current to start, but insisted that all conditions of the use permit be met before actual physical occupancy of the seminary takes place.

"We are hoping to move in July 1," Dr. Graves said.

Fire Destroys Club At Ft. Ord

MONTEREY (AP)—The central service club at Ft. Ord was destroyed by fire yesterday.

Damage is estimated at $150,000. The cause has not been determined.

WINNER'S SCRAPBOOK—Pamela Wilson, "Miss Marin" of 1958, looks over clippings on her contest victory as she chats with Dick Miller, San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce chairman of this year's "Miss Marin" pageant, which will be held May 16 at Bermuda Palms.

'Miss Marin' Contest Deadline Extended

Deadline for entering the "Miss Marin" contest, sponsored by the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been extended until Saturday, Dick Miller, chairman, announced today.

Fifteen Marin beauties had entered the contest by yesterday, which was to be the final day, said Miller. But others have inquired about entering, so the jaycees decided to hold the entry list open a few more days.

"We expect to have 25 contestants by Saturday—and every one a potential 'Miss America,'" declared Miller.

"Miss Marin" will be chosen at a pageant and ball the night of May 16 at Bermuda Palms. Preliminary eliminations will be held on April 12, Miller said.

"Any young lady between the ages of 18 and 28 who resides in Marin County may enter the contest," said Miller. Applications may be filed at the junior chamber of commerce office at 801 B street, San Rafael.

The jaycees are limiting ticket sales to 1,500 for the pageant. Tickets are on sale at the jaycee office and at Bermuda Palms.

The "Miss Marin" pageant is an official "Miss America" contest preliminary. The local winner will compete in the "Miss California" pageant in Santa Cruz on June 18, 19, 20 and 21.

Many prizes for the local winner are being offered by Marin business houses. A "nationally known celebrity" will be pageant master of ceremonies, said Miller.

Never Dull

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The life of a water meter reader isn't dull in the opinion of a veteran at the work, Robert L. Daniel. "I've found everything from a bottle of whiskey to a 'possum in meters," he said, as well as snakes and black widow spiders.

County To Call Bids On Flood Control Bonds

Although it has two informal offers for purchase of a Tamalpais Valley flood control bond issue, the Marin County Board of Supervisors decided yesterday to call for bids and open them April 14.

A 15-year bond issue of $14,323.72 is required of a Tam Valley assessment district formed to raise local funds needed for a $630,000 Army Corps of Engineers flood control project on Coyote Creek.

The district's total assessment is $24,750, of which $10,426.28 has been paid in cash by property owners.

Eugene K. Sturgis, the district's attorney, said yesterday the First California Co. has offered to pay 101 per cent of par value for the bonds, with accrued interest at the rate of 5½ per cent per year.

This, said Sturgis, is $143 better than an earlier offer by Stone and Youngberg, San Francisco investment house, to purchase the bonds at par, with 5½ per cent interest.

Venturi Favored In Masters Tournament

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Ken Venturi and Art Wall were the betting favorites and Sam Snead, as usual, the gallery favorite as the field of 76 professionals and 14 amateurs took their final tune-ups today for the 23rd Masters Golf Tournament, starting tomorrow.

Venturi, because most of the pros think he has the best game "from the tee into the cup," was the 3-1 betting choice with Wall, the leading money winner on the PGA circuit this year, the second choice at 4-1.

The 46-year-old Snead and 48-year-old Jimmy Demaret, only golfers to win the Masters three times, were quoted at 5-1 along with Cary Middlecoff. Arnold Palmer, last year's winner, was listed at 6-1.

Venturi is only 27. He's won a lot of tournaments, but none of the big ones like the Masters.

Wall is 35. He is the most consistent player of the year and he has everything it takes to win. A lot of players like him because of the added experience he has over Venturi.

But it is surprising to talk to old-timers.

ALL LIKE SAM

"For the last few weeks he's been playing the best I've ever seen him play," said Lew Worsham, who won the U.S. Open back in 1947. "You name any player in the field and I'll take Snead head to head."

There was little said about the chances of the 46-year-old Ben Hogan. Hogan is now limiting his competitive golf to four tournaments a year, and his fellow pros don't feel he has it on the greens any more.

MOST HAPPY FELLOW — Cary Middlecoff shouts with joy as he sinks a long putt on 18th green during practice round for the Masters Golf Tournament opening in Augusta, Ga., tomorrow. (AP Wirephoto)

GIANTS TEST JONES VS. CHICAGO TODAY

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Sad Sam Jones makes his first start in a San Francisco Giant uniform today, against the Chicago Cubs.

Manager Bill Rigney intends to use the National League strike out king, recently obtained from St. Louis, for six or seven innings in the next to last exhibition in Arizona.

The two clubs got together yesterday and the Giants pulled out a 7-5 victory on a four-run ninth inning with the aid of two Indian errors. That broke a three-game losing streak and gave the Californians a 10-10 Cactus League mark.

Going into the ninth, the Giants were trailing 3-4. They had got their runs on a Bob Schmidt homer in the third third and a two-run homer by Orlando Cepeda in the eighth.

Indian errors by Woody Held and Russ Nixon contributed to the big finale.

Johnny Antonelli started for the Giants, but retired after two innings because he couldn't loosen up. He is expected to start again Sunday.

Stu Miller, Curt Barclay and Dom Zanni handled the pitching. Zanni got the win, his third against no loss. The four pitchers gave up 14 hits. The Giants got only eight off Gary Bell and Al Cicotte.

All was quiet between Miller and Vic Power, the Indian first baseman hit by little Stu last Thursday. The incident almost led to a riot.

The first time Power faced Miller this game he went to two strikes on the first two pitches. Evidently the Indian figured the next one would be a brush-back pitch. His back side flew out and he threw his bat at an outside pitch tapping a dribbler to second base. Power hit a sacrifice fly his second time up.

Redlegs Show 1957 Power; Pitching, Too

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Cincinnati Reds are beginning to look like those famous "window breakers" of 1957—except that they're also getting the pitching.

A long-shot National League pennant shot, the Reds have won six of their last seven games scoring a total of 35 runs compared to 10 for the opposition. They've had four different pitchers go nine innings and yesterday saw three of their "fringe" pitchers combine in a 5-0 shutout of the Philadelphia Phillies.

In addition, Manager Mayo Smith saw Gus Bell blast out two homers and Ed Bailey hit one — all off Robin Roberts who staggered through his second nine-inning job of the spring.

THREE-HITTER

Jim O'Toole, the rookie hope of the camp, Willard Schmidt and Bob Mabe were the pitchers who collaborated in yesterday's three-hit shut-out—second in four games for the Reds.

Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox and Bob Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates indicated they are approaching top form in other significant performances.

Pierce, the White Sox' likely opening-day pitcher, yielded five hits in seven shutout innings as the Sox topped the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-1.

Friend was banged around for 15 hits, but managed to last the distance for the first time this spring, as the Pirates downed the Detroit Tigers, 6-5.

Machen Dull In TKO Win Over Williams

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Heavyweight Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., shuffling along the well trodden comeback trail, scored a ninth round technical knockout last night over Clarence Williams of Hollywood.

The unranked Williams carried the battle to Machen throughout the first eight rounds and may have won on points but for Eddie's sudden awakening.

Machen, who barely used his right hand, came to life after Williams doused him with a left-right combination on the head in the last seconds of the tenth.

TWO-FISTED ATTACK

The 200-pound northern California fighter came out for the ninth with a two-fisted attack that polished off Williams in one minute, 42 seconds. Williams entered the fray at 197.

A standing room only crowd of 5,100 booed lustily in Memorial Auditorium throughout the dull contest and when Referee Frankie Carter stopped the fight Williams' nose was cut and he was bleeding from the mouth.

The next rung up Machen's comeback ladder is California Heavyweight Champion Ruben Vargas, whom he is scheduled to meet later this month in San Francisco's Cow Palace.

Jon Arnett To Marry USC Coed On June 5

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Football star Jon Arnett will marry Yvonne Flint, pretty University of Southern California coed, on June 5, they have announced.

They met when Arnett, now with the Los Angeles Rams, was attending USC. Miss Glint was a Tournament of Roses princess in 1956.

MILWAUKEE-PHILLY TRADE

Braves Hope O'Brien Can Solve 2b Problem

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves, seeking a second baseman to hold together their pennant winner, today looked to Johnny O'Brien to fill the gap left by ailing Red Schoendienst.

O'Brien was acquired by the Braves last night in a 3-for-3 swap with the Philadelphia Phillies, who apparently feel that their own second base problem is solved.

The Braves got O'Brien, hard-hitting catcher Stan Lopata and utility infielder Ted Kazanski for pitcher Gene Conley, infielder-outfielder Harry Hanebrink and longtime minor league infielder Joe Koppe.

O'Brien could figure strongly in our infield," said Manager Fred Haney of the Braves. After trying seven men at second this spring, Haney was wary about handing the job to the light-hitting O'Brien, but added: "He's a scrappy little hustler. I like his style of play very much."

The Braves, with the tubercular Schoendienst out for at least a year, have been rebuffed by contending clubs in an effort to land a second baseman on the open market, but the Phils, looking for pitching depth, decided Conley, now playing professional basketball for the Boston Celtics, is a good gamble. In making the trade, they firmly installed George Sparky Anderson, the rookie acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers in the off-season, at the infield pivot.

Kazanski has played second, third and short. The Braves said he would be assigned to Louisville in the American Assn.

Conley had an 0-6 record and a 4.88 ERA with the Braves last season, but insisted he wasn't given a fair chance. He turned to pro basketball this winter and has been a hold-ou...

Both Koppe, 27, and Hanebrink, 31, have to prove themselves. Koppe played only 16 games with the Braves in '58, and Hanebrink, although appearing in 63, hit only .188.

Lopata could be a big man for Milwaukee. Although he slipped to nine homers last season, he has hit 116 in 11 years with the Phils and is excellent backstop insurance behind Del Crandall and Del Rice.

Tony Dominguez Held To Draw In Richmond Fight

Murray floored Dominguez in the final round to balance the Oakland fighter's earlier edge. Both men weighed in at 154.

Roy Harris In TV Bout

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Roy Harris, who lost a game but bloody bid for heavyweight champ Floyd Patterson's title, gets his first chance to show tonight that he's good enough to merit another shot.

Harris and his manager, canny Lou Viscusi, are so confident that the colorful fighting school teacher will make a good impression that they are risking Harris' rocky ring reputation against Donnie Fleeman, a hard-hitting Texas light heavyweight that Harris failed to put down in a previous effort.

The Cut and Shoot, Tex., product seems certain to win again—just as he did when he piled up a lop-sided decision over Fleeman in the same Memorial Auditorium ring four months ago, but he's going to have to make it a real, slam-bang show to impress the regular Wednesday night (ABC 7 p.m. PST) television audience.

Harris will have the same 20-pound weight advantage, about 202 to 181, and still commands enough respect to gain a No. 7 ranking among the National Boxing Assn.'s heavyweight contenders.

Cubs Trim 7 Players

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — The Chicago Cubs cut seven players today in trimming their squad to 30.

Those cut included southpaw pitcher Dick Ellsworth of Fresno, Calif., who was sent to Fort Worth on option.

Nats, Celtics End Playoff Duel Tonight

BOSTON (AP) — The stubborn Syracuse Nationals attempt to snap Boston's home-court hex and eliminate the Celtics tonight in a Garden showdown for the right to represent the Eastern Division for the National Basketball Assn. championship.

All even after six games in their best-of-seven struggle, the Nationals face a monumental struggle to sweep past the Celtics and into the NBA finals against the Minneapolis Lakers, Western Division conquerors of mighty St. Louis.

In the three previous games in Boston, the Celtics have clobbered the upset-minded Syracuse team by margins of 22, 22 and 21 points, respectively.

Key members of both teams nursed minor ailments, but all hands are expected to be ready for the vital engagement.

The Syracuse-Boston winner will open the best-of-seven finals at home against the Lakers Saturday afternoon, with the second game on Sunday. The third and fourth contests will be in Minneapolis-St. Paul on the nights of April 7 and 9.

Bronco '9' Defeats St. Mary's Twice

SANTA CLARA (AP) — Santa Clara defeated St. Mary's, 6-2, and 4-3 and ran its season baseball record to 10-0 last night. Seven of the victories are in the West Coast Athletic Conference.

The Broncs won the second game when Les Powers tripled in the seventh and final inning with the bases loaded on a walk, hit batsman and safe bunt.

They took the opener with a five-run fifth inning. Ned Brown doubled in the first two runs and Jim O'Rourke poled a 410-foot, three-run homer.

Relic

VERGENNES, Vt. (UPI) — Nine-year-old Matthew Daniels Jr. recently found a four-pound cannonball in his backyard. The ball is thought by experts to be a relic of the battle in which British forces were defeated at Plattsburgh, N.Y., 144 years ago.

Tam Scores 29th Consecutive Swimming Victory

Tamalpais Indians scored their 29th consecutive dual swimming meet victory yesterday with a 61-30 decision over Alameda High at Tam.

Tam's first place winners were: Gary Dahl, 50 free, 25.2; Mark Cory, 100 butterfly, 1:04.8; Jerry Gunn, 100 breast, 1:19.3; Tom Hanley, diving; Rick Snow, 150 medley, 1:52.2; 200 freestyle relay (Coulon, Lucas, Emmerson, Anderson), 1:46.8.

Tam won the Class B meet, 59-17.

Cicero Stars As Bulldogs Triumph

Mike Cicero cracked a two-run triple during a five-run fourth inning rally and also contributed a double and single to the attack yesterday as he led the San Rafael Bulldogs to an 8-5 victory over Galileo in a practice game in San Francisco.

John Spadoni also had a triple for Coach Jack Sims' Bulldogs.

San Rafael	r-100	501	1	—8 8 0

Records Topple As Redwood Swimmers Thrash Pirates

Coach Paul Daly's Redwood High School swimming team made an impressive debut yesterday by overpowering the Drake Pirates, 65½ to 29½ at Drake's pool in a dual meet that saw five pool records broken, three by Redwood.

The Giants' record-breakers were Dick Chambers in the 400-yard freestyle, 4 minutes, 42.8 seconds; Paul Nordstrand, 100 butterfly, 1:02.8 and John Chambers, 150 individual medley, 1:40.9. Setting pool records for Drake were Pete Sagues, 50 free, 23.8 and John Hendry in the 100 breaststroke, 1:14.3.

Other first place winners for Redwood were Keith Van Borstal, 100 backstroke, 1.11.5; Dave Corbet, 100 free, 55.1; and the 200-yard freestyle relay team. The Giants piled up points by taking second place in every event.

Sagues was the meet's only double winner as he also copped the 200 freestyle in 2:11.5. Drake's other first place winner was Zeke Bundschu in diving.

The 200-yard medley relay teams tied in 2:04.6.

Redwood also won the Class B meet, 47-30.

Christian Stars As Drake '9' Nips Links

Pitcher Dave Christian, who tripled home two runs during a fourth inning rally, came back in the sixth inning to score the winning run as the Drake Pirates shaded the Lincoln High Mustangs, 6-5 yesterday in a practice game at Drake.

The deciding run came when Christian drew a walk, stole second and third bases and then score on Dick Spackman's sacrifice fly.

Christian, who was relieved on the mound by Spackman in the sixth, started Drake's fourth-inning rally with his triple that scored Pete Dardis and Eddie Clahan. John Larkin doubled Christian home and then followed him across on Spackman's single to complete the four-run explosion.

Contributing sparkling defensive plays for Drake were outfielders Nino Geminiani and Vince Pallavicini and infielders Rich Schwartz and Christian, when he was playing third in the final inning.

Drake tackles Galileo tomorrow at Drake and then battles Redwood High Saturday in San Rafael for the Marin County High School Tournament championship starting at 2:30 p.m.

DeMolay Riflemen Receive Trophy

McCovey, 3 Other Giants, Farmed Out To Minors

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—First baseman Willie McCovey, one of the better rookie prospects in the San Francisco Giant camp, yesterday was optioned to Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League.

The long-ball hitter, who also played with Phoenix in 1958, was one of four players sent to top farm clubs by the parent Giant organization. The San Francisco roster now is down to 31 players.

NBA PLAYER DRAFT

Big 10 Still Favorite Pickin' Spot For Pros

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Big 10, where college basketball teams usually raise hob with each other's season records, is still the favorite pickin' spot for pro basketball.

In the National Basketball Assn. draft yesterday, 11 players were pulled out of the Big 10—almost twice the number chosen from any other conference.

Cutting across conference lines, the pros picked every eligible on the first three Associated Press All-America teams.

George Washington University had three men drafted—the most from any school. The Southern Conference school contributed Gene Gaurilia, Boston's first pick; Bill Telasky, Philadelphia's fifth choice, and Bucky McDonald, New York's sixth selection.

For the rest of the conferences, the Missouri Valley and Pacific Coast gave up six each, the Southern, Southeastern, Big Eight and Southwest Conference each contributed four and the Atlantic Coast, Ohio Valley and Ivy League loops each had three draftees.

The pros also picked 28 players from independent schools or smaller state conferences.

In all, the eight NBA teams drafted 81 players for possible use in the 1959-1960 season.

The prize of the draft was Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain, 7-foot-2 former Kansas star who elected to spend his last year of college eligibility playing with the Harlem Globetrotters.

The Philadelphia Warriors picked him as a high school territorial choice four years ago and affirmed this choice at yesterday's draft.

Cincinnati—Charley Brown, Seattle.

Syracuse — Paul Neumann, Stanford; Bob Dalton, California.

New York—Walt Torrance, UCLA.

St. Louis—Lee Harmon, Oregon State.

Gordon Leaves Fish-Game Post As Warne Takes Over

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Seth Gordon bowed out of public life today as California's Director of Fish and Game, but he promised he'd keep a weather eye on the agency he headed for seven years.

Gordon, originally appointed by Republican Gov. Earl Warren and then reappointed by Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, was replaced by Democrat Gov. Edmund G. Brown with William E. Warne, former director of the American Aid Mission in Korea. Warne takes office tomorrow.

"I plan to catch up on my own fishing and hunting and do some loafing," said the man who has been one of the state's most controversial sports figures.

He also planned to consider "some interesting offers . . . to devote myself to California's complicated wildlife problems.

"I intend again to tackle some serious conservation writing," he added. "And I may do consulting work."

About being replaced, Gordon was very frank: "For the first time in my 45 years in conservation work, I have been fired."

BOWLING

Bob Lollick edged out Walt Silva by two pins last night for high scoring laurels in the Marin Bowl's handicap league. Lollick had a 587 total on games of 178, 199 and 210 while Silva totaled 585 on 200, 173 and 212.

Team results and high scorers: Twin Oaks Floor Co. (Jack Watson, 553) d. Mill Valley Auto Parts (Ed Johnson, 516) by 4-0; J. R. Watkins Co. (Ed Clinton, 515) d. Standard Linoleum (Ole Anderson, 493) by 3-1; Northwestern Savings & Loan (Walt Silva, 585) d. Payless Drugs (Bill Myers, 535) by 3-1; Hit and Misses (Warren Bridges, 499) tied Ross Merchants (Dick Wagner, 542) 2-2; Frank's Barber Shop (Bob Lollick, 587) tied Ranch Wagon (Clyde Sargent, 494) 2-2; Filippo (Bill Rhodes, 547) tied Bret Harte Super (Charles Valsecchi, 562) 2-2.

WALT SILVA with a 605 series including a 213 game and sponsor Fred Wentworth's 235 game paced the champion Wentworth Painting and Decorating team to a 3-0 victory over Marin Drive-In Liquors in the final night of the Marin Bowl's 860 Scratch League. Ace Addenin's 546 total was high for the Liquor team.

Other results and high scorers: Marin Bowl Coffee Shop (Dick Leal, 584) d. Archie's Mobil Service (Floyd Thurman, 541) by 3-0; Bermuda Palms (Elbie Bean and Art Thomsson, 562 each) d. Filippo Construction (Zeno Gelatti, 547) by 2-1; Host Liquors (Colin Rose, 565) d. Jimmie & Van's Associated Service (Joe Cardoza, 521) by 3-0.

Let's Hope Rigney Lets Good Pitchers Solve Own Problems

CONNOLLY

It was shortly after the start of the 1958 season when it became obvious the San Francisco Giants were "short" in pitching.

Manager Bill Rigney began lifting pitchers for pinch hitters and that provided a necessity for using up many more pitchers in a ball game, than his meager staff could stand.

Now with the dawn of the 1959 season it behooves skipper Rigney to change his tactics.

As Rigney maneuvered the pitchers in 1958, one has to admit he did remarkably well with the material he had to work with.

But 1959 presents an altogether different picture.

Rigney has a pitching staff, in length, in depth and in quality. The finest recipe we can offer him at this moment is to let the pitchers work themselves out of their own trouble instead of "Rig" scrambling into the picture and mussing up his staff by hurried changes.

RIGNEY IS A MANAGER who wants to win today's game today and let tomorrow's game take care of itself. A commendable belief but not altogether a wise policy.

Pitchers get into jams of themselves. They also get out of it by themselves. And the manager who yanks a pitcher in a fit of anger lives to see a disgruntled staff and a losing ball club.

All I hope is that in 1959 when a Giant pitcher is chosen to start a game, he be allowed to continue for a reasonable length of time in order to get going.

Many a time last year Rigney yanked pitchers when even the fans in the stands felt he was doing wrong.

I'll be glad to "confer" with Mr. Rigney any time he seeks my aid. But I hope he gets over the 1958 jitters and lets his starting pitcher climb out of the hot spots by himself.

Some recommend the two-platoon system, such as is used successfully in football, especially the pro type of play.

These advocates think of using three or four pitchers in a game, allowing them to go two or three innings and always have a fresh flinger ready.

That could work, but the old school of thought on pitching is that a starting pitcher ought to be able to go most of the game. And when he has to be relieved, he is deserving of the same number of days rest as if he pitched the full nine innings.

Some of the relief pitchers in baseball today flourish because they know they are only to pitch a short time.

MY CONTENTION is if a pitcher is good enough to start a ball game, the manager should be pretty choosy about taking him out for someone he didn't think was good enough to start the game.

Every four days is the diet for starting pitchers. And if you measure that recipe for a season, it means a pretty soft job.

A relief pitcher is apt to get into four games in four days but only as emergencies arise. They get paid on that scale.

I'd like to see Bill Rigney experiment with starting pitchers for awhile this season and see what results it produces.

SAFE BOATING

By HARRY HEIFETZ, Commander
U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 14

AIDS TO NAVIGATION

(This article has been contributed to this series by Abe Blumenfeld, former flotilla commander and now chief boat examiner.)

Reference has been made in this series to the necessity of using common sense in boating, so that the end result of carefulness would be (1) elimination of personal injuries or death, (2) minimization of property damages, (3) more pleasure from your boating activities.

Therefore, this article will deal in generalities of "aids to navigation," meaning that a basic knowledge of the interpretation of those markers, buoys, and lights placed in all navigable waters by the U. S. Coast Guard will further these aims.

Knowledge of the system of buoys and markers is most important. Knowing what they mean enables the skipper of any craft, large or small, to proceed to the place he desires to take the craft and keep it out of dangerous waters and afloat.

BUOYS

Buoys are numbered and colored in several ways; and some are lighted and some are equipped with sound devices. All have a meaning.

First it must be remembered that the numbers and colors are based on "entering from seaward."

On entering any port or channel "from seaward" red buoys, bearing even numbers, are kept to starboard (the right hand side of the boat). The following aid to memory will help: You learned the three R's when you were in school. That's easy to remember—"red right returning."

Remember also, that going toward "seaward" the position of colors is reversed.

Generally speaking, in main channels, the odd-numbered black buoys found on your port side are can types; while the red buoys, even-numbered, found on your starboard side, are spar or nun buoys.

Mid-channel buoys may be of either type, and are vertically striped, black and white, meaning pass on either side.

Obstruction buoys are painted with horizontal red and black bands and denote which side to pass on. The top band is the cue. If red, pass to port side of buoy (your starboard). If top band is black, pass to starboard side of buoy (your port side).

There are other and varied types of markers, used on shore and on posts set in the water, but space does not permit of detailing them all. For a complete study, I recommend Chapman's book "Seamanship and Small Boat Handling."

For night navigation there is also a system of lights, and again I refer to Chapman's for full detail. In general, however, black channel buoys are lighted with a green flashing light, and red buoys with a red flashing light. Mid-channel buoys will have a white flashing light.

Ike Expected To Miss Nats' Opener

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower will receive his annual pass for the 1959 major league baseball season today.

But it is doubtful he will be on hand for the opening day game here April 9 between the Washington Senators and the Baltimore Orioles.

The President is expected to be on a golfing holiday in Augusta, Ga., next week if he can arrange his schedule to accommodate the customary April trip to the south.

The Irresistible In A Vegetable

This is a new way to fix green beans. They're "dressed up" and made extra interesting with tender white rice and creamy mushroom soup. Over the top is an irresistible "crust" of bubbly cheese. How handy for you to fix dinner's vegetables in a casserole early in the day!

RICE AND BEAN BAKE

- ⅔ cup uncooked white rice
- 1⅓ cups water
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 2 cups cooked and seasoned green beans, cut in 1-inch lengths
- 1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1 cup milk
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1½ cups American cheese, shredded
- Paprika

Put the rice, water and ½ teaspoon of salt into a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down low. Cover the saucepan with a lid. Simmer over this low heat for 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

Stir in the green beans, mushroom soup, milk, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Pour into a well-greased glass 2-quart oven dish or into individual oven dishes. Sprinkle the cheese over the top or mix some of the cheese with the rice and bean mixture and place the rest over the top.

Sprinkle well with the paprika. Place in a 350 degree F. oven for 40 minutes or until most of the liquid is absorbed and the cheese begins to brown.

This recipe makes 8 servings.

BAKED STUFFED HEART — A hearty dish to set before the king of the household, Baked Stuffed Heart is also kind to the budget. This savory stuffing has a touch of the unusual, and the gravy a touch of horseradish.

A Crunchy Sort Of Cooky To Make You A Magician

Here's a crunchy sort of cooky—the kind you can mix up while the children are in school and tuck away in the ice compartment for command performances. Then, like Aladdin himself, you evoke magic, not with a lamp but with sharp knife and hot oven.

REFRIGERATOR PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

Ingredients: 1¼ cups sifted flour, ¼ teaspoon baking soda, ¼ teaspoon salt, 6 tablespoons golden shortening, ½ cup smooth-type peanut butter, 6 tablespoons granulated sugar, ¼ cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, 1 large egg, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. Cream shortening, peanut butter and sugars; beat in egg and vanilla thoroughly. Stir in dry ingredients until blended. Shape into a roll about 1½ inches in diameter; wrap tightly in waxed paper. Place in freezing compartment of refrigerator until firm enough to cut; slice about ⅛-inch thick. Place about 1 inch apart on buttered cookie sheets. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until lightly browned—10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 4 dozen. Store in tightly covered container.

A Light Dressing

Salad time is close upon us. Serve your favorite spring greens with this low calorie dressing. 1 can of tomato juice, 2 tablespoons of vinegar form the base, to which a bit of paprika, mustard and Worcestershire are nice additions.

HEART OF THE MATTER

The Way To A Man's Heart Is Also Through Pocketbook

The way to a man's heart, in this case, is through his pocketbook. A wife can show her regard for the family food budget, and at the same time display her ingenuity by preparing this wholesome, inexpensive "Baked Stuffed Beef Heart." This is such a delicious entree that every member of the family will agree that Mom is quite a cook!

There was a time when the butcher gave away variety meats such as liver, heart and kidney; but those days are gone forever. We appreciate them today not only for their good nutritive values, but for the pleasing variety they bring to menus. When properly cooked, these meats rise to the delicacy class. They are good buys because there is no bone and practically no waste.

In this recipe, a savory stuffing and a horseradish gravy compliment the rich flavor of beef heart to perfection.

BAKED STUFFED BEEF HEART

- 1 (3 to 4 pound) beef heart
- 1 tablespoon instant minced onion or, ¼ cup finely chopped raw onion
- 3 tablespoons melted butter
- 2 cups soft bread crumbs
- 3 slices crisp, cooked bacon
- 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- ⅛ teaspoon poultry seasoning
- Seasoned flour
- Bacon drippings
- 1½ cups water
- Bottled horseradish

Remove coarse fibers, veins and arteries from heart with sharp-pointed knife or kitchen scissors; wash thoroughly in cold water.

Combine onion and butter and add to bread crumbs along with crumbled bacon, pimiento, salt, pepper and poultry seasoning. Fill cavity with stuffing; sew or skewer opening together.

Roll in seasoned flour and brown on all sides in bacon drippings. Add water and bake in covered Dutch oven in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 2½ to 3 hours, turning once during the cooking.

Remove heart and make a gravy, if desired. Add a smooth flour-water paste (2 tablespoons each flour and water per cup of broth); cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and smooth. Season to taste with salt, pepper and horseradish.

Something Special From The Broiler

HOT CHICKEN BROWN

- 1 cup uncooked white rice
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 2 cups water
- A 10½-oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup
- ¾ cup milk
- Dash of black pepper
- 6 slices chicken or turkey or 3, 5-oz. cans boneless chicken or enough small pieces for 6 servings
- 1 cup shredded American cheese
- 1 teaspoon paprika

Put the rice, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 cups water in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid. Simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

Spread the rice over a greased shallow baking dish about 12" x 8" x 2". Heat together the mushroom soup, milk, the remaining ½ teaspoon salt and the pepper. Pour half this mixture over the rice. Arrange the turkey or chicken over the rice. Add the cheese and paprika to the remaining mushroom soup-milk mixture.

Heat slowly until the cheese melts. Pour over the chicken or turkey and rice.

Place the baking dish in the broiler and broil until hot and bubbly. Watch closely to prevent the top from becoming too brown. Add milk if the mixture becomes too dry.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

A Cheese-Frosted Tidbit Add Savoir-Faire To Salad

For a lunch-time treat, serve a hearty chicken or seafood salad with these pimiento-topped Frosted Biscuits. Blend thoroughly 1 3-ounce package cream cheese, softened, 1 tablespoon milk and 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento. Set aside while preparing biscuit dough.

Sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt. Cut or rub in ¼ cup shortening until mixture is crumbly.

Add ⅔ to ¾ cup milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out ½-inch thick.

Marmalade Makes Biscuits Superb

Marmalade Drop Biscuits win top honors at breakfast or coffee time. Sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt. Cut or rub in ¼ cup shortening until mixture is crumbly.

Add 1 cup milk to make a thick batter, stirring only until flour is well moistened. Place a teaspoon of marmalade into greased muffin pans.

Drop batter on top of marmalade, filling pans half full. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 12 minutes. Remove from pans immediately.

Waffle-Wiches

Waffle sandwiches hold great appeal for children. Try them this new way. Make waffles from a mix . . . adding 1¼ teaspoons grated orange rind . . . along with the other ingredients. Heat 1 can (15 ounces) boned chicken fricassee. Spoon over waffle squares; top each with another waffle. Garnish with cranberry sauce.

MEATY MERRY-GO-ROUND—Borrow a twist from the sweetbreads section of your cookbook for this quick main dish. The meat is rolled into the dough, shaped into a wreath, then cut almost through with a scissors or sharp knife and slices spread as you do.

They'll Turn Handsprings Over A Hot Savory Beef Cartwheel

If foods have family trees, then this Beef Cartwheel is granddaughter of a Russian pirok. Of course, it might also be related to a French pate en croute, or a pizza, or American pigs in blankets.

Meat and pastry dishes are found in every part of the world, beloved not only for their savor, but for their substantial way of stretching a pound of meat twice as far.

This recipe is simplicity itself. The roll goes into the oven in little more time than it takes to make biscuits from a mix, comes out 15 minutes later ready for the table.

BEEF CARTWHEEL
(Makes 4 servings)

- 2 cups biscuit mix
- ⅔ cup liquefied nonfat dry milk
- 1 pound ground beef
- ⅓ cup nonfat dry milk (dry form)
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon oregano
- ¼ teaspoon thyme
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 1 egg

Preheat oven to 425°F. Prepare dough for rolled biscuits according to package directions, substituting ⅔ cup liquefied nonfat dry milk for regular milk; then knead according to directions. Roll dough to rectangle ¼-inch thick (about 9x15 inches).

Combine remaining ingredients; spread meat mixture evenly on dough; press down firmly.

Roll dough lengthwise, jelly roll fashion; shape into ring (seam edge down) on lightly buttered baking sheet. Brush ends of roll with milk; pinch together to seal. Cut ring with scissors ¾ of the way through from outer edge to center. Repeat at 1-inch intervals around entire ring. Turn each slice slightly on its side. Brush cartwheel with butter; bake 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Serve with Luscious Mushroom Sauce.

LUSCIOUS MUSHROOM SAUCE
(Makes about 2⅓ cups)

- 2 cups liquefied nonfat dry milk
- ⅓ cup flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 (3 oz.) cans sliced mushrooms

Pour liquefied nonfat dry milk into top of double boiler. Sprinkle flour, salt and pepper over surface; beat with rotary beater until blended. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly. Melt butter in small skillet; add mushrooms; saute until golden brown. Add to milk mixture; simmer sauce five minutes. Serve over Beef Cartwheel.

'LET'S HAVE A PARTY'

Kent School P-TA Luncheon Will Feature Fashion Show

Something different will characterize the annual spring luncheon of the Adaline E. Kent School P-TA this year. For many seasons it has been known as "The Apron Luncheon," but this Friday it will be a "Let's Have A Party" luncheon. Aprons are out and party ideas are in!

Mothers from each grade will exhibit a party table for that age group complete with favors and game ideas and sample menus. Prices will be indicated so prospective party givers will not only be able to cull some new ideas but also will know how much they cost.

Mrs. Peter A. Ribar will be in charge as general chairman and Mrs. William P. Preston is responsible for the luncheon which will be served by girls from the domestic science classes. Mrs. Carl Breidenstein will preside at the punch table and Mrs. Richard Boss and Mrs. L. W. Reed are coordinating the fashion show of apparel made by the girls in Mrs. Catherine Gray's sewing classes.

There will also be a demonstration of gift wrapping during luncheon.

Bridge or canasta will be played. Tickets are available from Mrs. Douglas Pease.

Heading the groups who are preparing the party tables exhibit are Mesdames J. N. De Ford, F. J. Herschleb, Alden Stock, Robert Busse, Stanley Eager, Frank Bowyer, and John F. Eagan.

The event will begin at noon on Wednesday, April 8, in the multi-purpose room of the school.

'LET'S HAVE A Party' is the theme for the Wednesday, April 8 luncheon to be held by the Kent School P-TA. A gift wrapping demonstration and fashion show are also planned for the event which begins at noon. Planning table decorations are, left to right, Mesdames Fred Herschleb, William Preston and Peter Ribar, general chairman.

MOTHERS FROM each grade will exhibit a party table for that age group complete with favors, game ideas and sample menus. For many years the luncheon has been known as "The Apron Luncheon." Concentrating on decorations for their table are, left to right, Mesdames L. E. Hollis and J. N. De Ford. Girls from the Domestic Science classes will serve the luncheon. Mrs. Wheeler Given Three-Year Stripe

Mrs. H. H. Wheeler, vice chairman of the Sonoma Gray Ladies of the American Red Cross, has just been awarded her three-year stripe, it was announced this week by chapter headquarters in San Rafael.

Mrs. Wheeler was commended on her work with trainable retarded children at the Sonoma Hospital. As part of experimental study at the hospital, groups of children who are, although retarded, trainable in simple tasks, are selected for this class. They are taught such simple things as how to wash their hands and sit at the table.

Aiding the trained hospital attendant is a Red Cross volunteer worker, and Mrs. Wheeler has been active in this phase of volunteer service. She resides at 2 Magnolia avenue, Larkspur.

Luncheon To Follow League Preview Friday

With all San Francisco Black and White minded in anticipation of the annual Symphony Ball on April 10, the Junior League of San Francisco, cosponsor with the San Francisco Symphony Assn. of the Symphony Preview series, has given a "Black and White" theme to the luncheon which will follow the last preview of the season, on Friday in the Peacock Lounge of the Hotel Mark Hopkins.

Among those who have reserved tables for lunch are Mesdames Emmet Allen, R. Kirklin Ashley, Jaul MacAulay Robinson, Albert John Evers, John Lawler, George Otto and Stanley Powell, who will have Mr. Powell and Percy King as her guests.

The Symphony Preview itself will be held at 11 a.m. in the Peacock Court of the Hotel Mark Hopkins and is open to the public free of charge as a public service. The speaker will be Dr. Wendell Otey, composed and professor of music at San Francisco State College, who will discuss Mozart's Piano Concerto in D Minor. All those interested are most cordially invited to attend and anyone wishing to remain for the Black and White luncheon may call for reservations.

BON VOYAGE PARTIES SLATED FOR MR. AND MRS. MEHERIN

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Meherin of San Anselmo, who are leaving on April 22 for a month in Europe, many parties are being arranged. Among these is the American breakfast to be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. William P. Preston of Kentfield which will be attended by 60 friends and their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Meherin with her mother, Mrs. Lillian Krigbaum of Kentfield, will make the polar flight to Rome and after a week there will go to Vienna, Paris, London and Ireland where relatives of Mr. Meherin reside. Most of the travel will be by air.

Guests at the Prestons' party will include Mr. and Mrs. Meherin, Mrs. Krigbaum, Messrs. and Mesdames John O'Rourke, Peter Ribar, Marc Krigbaum, John Chrysler, Robert Harrison, Percy McPartland, Jack Korn, Jack Lauder, Walter Coberly, and Thomas Gilboy of Marin;

Messrs. and Mesdames William Byrnes, Thomas Slavin, Jack Dunlevy of San Francisco, and Col. and Mrs. Robert McSheehy of Piedmont.

The decorations and menu will be in keeping with the European countries the Meherins will visit.

Lagunitas P-TA Meet To Feature Program By Pupils

Student demonstrations of oral and choral expression skills will form the program at the Lagunitas Parent-Teacher Assn. meeting tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Miss June Purviance will direct the Glee Club in numbers done by members as a party of the County Chorus in the March Music Festival at Sir Francis Drake High School.

The program will also include a demonstration of oral expression by Don Burnham of the eighth grade; two experiments to show air pressure by Mike Mathis and a monologue by Hamish Tyler. Jeff Harriman will use color slides in a report on Alaska and girls of the eighth grade will discuss international news.

The P-TA business meeting will include an installation of officers.

Los Angeles Visitor Feted At Luncheon

A luncheon honoring Mrs. Lowell Bigelow of Los Angeles was given Tuesday at the Palo Alto home of Mrs. Thomas Rowe. Mrs. Rowe (who is known professionally as Marian Rowe) is the creator of television's "Adventure School." Mrs. Bigelow is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bigelow of Little Reed Heights. She has been active in establishing nursery schools in the Los Angeles area.

Scout Troop 175 Makes Tour Of Cookie Factory

In preparation for the Girl Scout Cookie sale, which will begin Friday, the girls of Troop 175 of Sleepy Hollow, recently toured the Mother's Cookie factory in Oakland.

Robert Frey, the personnel manager, conducted the group in an extensive tour through the plant. The highlight of the day was in seeing the Girl Scout cookies mixed, baked, and boxed. The cookies are a Danish assortment and are attractively boxed in a carton decorated with the Girl Scout emblem.

At the end of each production line of various types of cookies the girls were given generous samples. Before leaving the factory each girl was given a package of cookies to take home.

Mrs. Clifton McGarr and Mrs. Carl Carlsen, troop leaders, were joined by Mesdames Gene Hammond, John Herrmann, and E. J. Hansen in taking the troop to Oakland.

Board To Meet

The Board of Directors of the Belvedere Unit of the Reed District Parent-Teachers will meet in the Belvedere School office on Tuesday, April 7 at 2:30 p.m. to formulate plans for the scheduled April 23 general membership meeting of the Unit, according to Mrs. William R. Davis, president. A nominating committee will be selected at the meeting.

5 Blue Bird Orientation Courses Set

Five Blue Bird leaders orientation courses are scheduled as spring training sessions by the Camp Fire Girls Training Committee with Mrs. Robert Eschen as chairman.

The purpose of the orientation is to introduce new Blue Bird leaders to the Camp Fire Girls program as a whole, the importance of leadership, the process of starting a new group, the first group meetings, group registration and available resource material.

In order that all interested volunteers may have an opportuity to attend, sessions have been scheduled at intervals in five areas of the county: San Anselmo, Mill Valley, San Rafael, Larkspur and Novato. An orientation consists of two morning meetings a week apart. Session I, April 6, 13, Monday, conducted by Mrs. William Zavosky, San Anselmo; Session II, April 8, 15, Mill Valley, conducted by Dr. Albertine Nash; Session III, San Rafael, conducted by Mrs. Eschen; Session IV, April 23, 30, Larkspur, Mrs. George Rowe; and Session V, May 13, 20, Novato, conducted by Mrs. George Pelmear.

Each orientation period will be from 9:30 a.m. util 12:30 p.m.

All leaders participating in this program will be offered Blue Bird Basic Training in the fall. For additional information call Camp Fire Girls office, San Rafael.

Medicos' Wives To Entertain Visitors

Wives of a number of Marin County doctors will be hostesses during the annual Scientific Assembly of the American Academy of General Practice April 6-9. Mrs. Eldor Sailer is chairman of the Marin group and Mrs. Alex Miller, co-chairman. Assisting them are Mesdames J. B. Conroy, Donald Fowler, Rodney B. Hartman and J. L. Hurlbut.

On Tuesday, April 7, a bus tour of Marin County for the visitors will take place, including Muir Woods and Mt. Tamalpais, concluding with a luncheon at the Alta Mira. In each bus will be a Marin hostess.

On Saturday evening, Dr. and Mrs. Antonio Franzi will entertain at a cocktail party at the Mark Hopkins in San Francisco for the doctors and their wives. Mrs. Franzi is chairman of the ladies entertainment committee. The assembly will meet at the Fairmont Hotel and a ladies' registration desk will be staffed every day of the conclave.

Why clutter your cupboards... with three or four or more "special" metal polishes? Why? Why? When you can brilliantshine all the metals around the house. And so easily!
☆ Copper pots, pans and chafing dishes—of course Brilliantshine cleans them brilliant-bright. Bright as new. But that's not all. With Brilliantshine you can also give a new look to your brass candlesticks and door knobs AND to stainless steel, aluminum furniture and chrome auto trim. Easy? The back label on the bright, new Brilliantshine can shows you how easy. Look for it when you're shopping.
Contains a special wax that leaves a long-lasting, protective lustre.

with this one can you can brilliantshine them all!

Coffees To Coincide With Special Telecast

The accomplishments of the Bay Area's Educational Television Station KQED (Channel 9) during its first five years will be related during a telecast tomorrow morning which will coincide with hundreds of coffee hours being given in the 11 Bay Area counties.

Seventeen coffee hours will be hosted at 10 a.m. tomorrow by interested KQED supporters in Marin. Co-chairmen of Coffees for KQED in Marin are Mrs. John B. Bellamy Jr. and Mrs. G. Stanleigh Arnold. Assisting them as area chairmen are Mesdames John Barnard, Mill Valley; William J. Ferguson, Belvedere; James McNab, Ross; Richard Hughes, Kentfield; and Eugene F. Kern Jr., San Rafael.

Hostesses in the San Rafael area tomorrow will be Mesdames Kenneth Walkmeister, James Zierolf, Robert Mills, William Hendrickson, Donald Higgins, K. L. Carmichael, Robert Evju, S. H. Diehl and Kern.

Mrs. Harold Rooks will entertain a group at her Ross home, and in Kentfield Mesdames Earnest Cole, Joel Nemschoff, Charles C. Clarke and Hughes will serve coffee to interested women. Mrs. James Huffaker and Mrs. George Neuwald are enlisting support for Channel 9 tomorrow in Novato, and Mrs. Barnard will be a coffee hostess in Mill Valley.

A similar series of coffee hours to stimulate further interest in KQED will be given throughout the county and the Bay Area on April 23. Bay Area general chairman of Coffees For KQED is Mrs. Mortimer Fleischhacker Jr. of San Francisco.

SEVENTEEN coffee hours will be hosted at 10 o'clock tomorrow throughout Marin coinciding with a telecast over the Bay Area's Educational Television Station KQED (Channel 9). The telecast will relate the accomplishments of the station in its first five years. Serving coffee to Mrs. G. Stanleigh Arnold, left, co-chairman for Marin, is Mrs. William J. Ferguson, center, Belvedere chairman, while Mrs. Eugene F. Kern Jr., right, is San Rafael chairman. (Independent-Journal photos)

Village Salvage Shop Will Mark Birthday

Seven years ago with a working capital of $100 which had been borrowed, the Village Salvage Shop in Tiburon opened its doors to the public. By the time the first month of operation was over, the debt had been paid and a dividend declared for the four-partner organizations.

Next Tuesday with much fanfare, including coverage by Wanda Ramey for her noon news on KPIX, the shop will celebrate its seventh birthday. The celebration will be held at the shop starting at 10 a.m. and continuing until 4 p.m. Punch and birthday cake will be served in the afternoon, with Miss Ramey scheduled to cut the cake at 3 p.m. A special attraction will be a grab bag of unsold items including many "gems."

The Shop is now operated by five partners, St. Hilary's Women's Club, St. Stephen's Guild, Westminster Presbyterian Church, The Southern Marin Recreation Center and the Reed Parent-Teacher Club and all realize a substantial monthly profit. During the past year the shop moved from the original ark in which it started, to more spacious quarters on the same street at the foot of Corinthian Island.

Also during the past year a series of broadcasts on KTIM every other Saturday afternoon has been started. People interested in the shop are interviewed and interesting items for sale are discussed.

Chairman for the birthday party, to which everyone is invited, is Mrs. John Ericson, chairman of the Governing Board. She is being assisted by Mrs. Robert Samilson, decorations and posters; Mrs. Charles Bigelow, publicity and Mesdames Arthur Talbott, Robert Bagnall and Elmer Boyden, refreshments. Mrs. Carl Lanus, shop manager, will coordinate the marking and sorting of clothes and bric-a-brac for the special sale to be held in conjunction with the party. Assisting Mrs. Lanus will be Mesdames Victor Avilla, Charles Kircher, Joe Johnson, Leo Sullivan and Michael Hemovitch.

Fairfax Club To Hear About Japan, Its Art

Maj. Gertrude Lund of Larkspur, a retired officer of the U.S. Army, will speak on Japan and its art at the meeting of Fairfax Women's Club on Tuesday, April 7. The talk will follow the 1:30 p.m. business session which will be conducted by the president, Mrs. John T. Fitzhenry.

Following the program, tea will be served. The hostess committee for the afternoon and also for the luncheon to be held on Tuesday, April 21, is composed of Mesdames E. R. Martenson, Hary P. Hansell, Martina O'Connor, DeLos C. Butts and James A. Johnson.

Center To Feature Venetian Cuisine Saturday Evening

Members and guests of the Southern Marin Recreation Center will spend a romantic evening in Venetian surroundings Saturday at the first in the series of Cosmopolitan Frolics for 1959.

A dinner featuring the delightful cuisine of Old Venice will be served from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. while an accordionist wanders among the tables decorated with red-checked tablecloths. Dancing will start at 9:30 p.m. and continue to 1 a.m.

Planning the decor will be Mesdames Edward Jerome and George Berticevich assisted by Mrs. Charles Mettalia.

Other dances in the series include a La Fiesta party on June 6, a Polynesian party featuring moonlight swimming on Aug. 15 and an "Out of This World" Hallowe'en party on Oct. 24.

Members may subscribe to the entire series or for a slightly higher amount attend the individual dances. Guests are welcome.

TOM THUMB

Columnist To Commentate Style Show

Members of Tom Thumb Chapter of the Children's Home Society believe that Fashions can be fun—for men as well as women, espectially when Paul Spiegel, noted San Francisco columnist, is responsible for the quips and comments on fashions and models.

Mrs. John Russell of Kentfield, chairman of the event, has secured Spiegel as commentator for the Tom Thumb Chapter of the Children's Home Society's "High Fashions and Guy Fashions" show to be held Saturday evening, April 18, in the Flamingo Room of the Bermuda Palms. Fashions will be from Modern Eve and Cazassa's Men Shop, both of San Rafael, and coiffures by Town House.

Decorations co-chairmen will be Mrs. Rex Thompson of Mill Valley and Mrs. David Walker of Belvedere. In charge of models will be Mrs. Benjamin Partee and Mrs. Roger Graham of Kentfield.

Children's Home Society, a member of the United Bay Area Crusade, is a private adoption agency whose qualified social workers have found happy homes for 19,000 children.

TEA HONORS DEN MOTHERS

Acceptances have been coming in rapidly for the appreciation tea honoring den mothers of Marin Council of Boy Scouts of America to be held tomorrow afternoon at the San Rafael Improvement Club. Also invited to the tea, which will begin at 2 o'clock, are mothers of Cub Scouts.

Principal speaker will be O. W. Bennett, national director of Cub Scouting. Two outstanding Marin singers, Mrs. John Lesoine and Mrs. John Wolfe, will provide a musical interlude, Mrs. Carl Brown, chairman of the tea, announces.

Larcs To Provide The Women's Touch

To provide "the women's touch" to the Southern Marin Recreation Center, a new group will be officially launched at a sherry luncheon Friday at 12:30 o'clock at the Center.

The group is to be known as the Larcs (Ladies Auxiliary to the Recreation Center) and will concern itself with a variety of activities from potting pelargoniums to planning parties, all pointed toward aiding the Center.

At the luncheon a proposed slate of officers will be presented and following nominations from the floor, elections will be held.

The group has already received formal recognition from the Recreation Center's Board of Governors, for at the March 16 meeting the Larcs were officially made a standing committee of the Board.

Mrs. Stanley Peterson, Board member, is chairman of the steering committee which has been active in the organization of the group. On the committee are Mesdames Milton Levitan, Robert Bilger, Elmer Boyden, Holbrook Bradley, John Del Mar, John Hoffmire, Howard McGill and Thomas Stanton Jr.

Luncheon reservations may be made through Mrs. McGill or Mrs. Levitan.

Mrs. John Hoffmire Honored At Shower

Guest of honor at a stork shower given by Mesdames Dick De Berry and James Zeigler recently was Mrs. John Hoffmire whose third son, Stephen, arrived March 16.

Canton And Auxiliary

Canton San Rafael No. 39, Patriarchs Militant, and Ladies Auxiliary will meet Friday night at the IOOF Temple in San Rafael with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Irwin, captain, and president, respectively, presiding. Refreshments will be served after the meeting. Mrs. James Williams is chairman.

Family Eating Better For Less Official Claims

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI)—The American family, that two generations ago spent half its income on foods, eats better today on less than 25 per cent of its take-home pay, says the president of the Illinois Canning Co., in Hoopeston.

Louis Ratzesberger, at the Ag-Industries Forum at the University of Illinois, pointed to recent studies. They showed that if families were content to buy the same type and quantity of food per person as they did before World War II, they could do so, with an outlay of only 16 per cent of their budgets.

Ratzesberger attributed the difference between that figure and the 25 per cent they actually spend to improvements in the food industry, which consumers desire.

People want canned or "convenience foods" because they save time, provide better balanced meals, and actually cost less than fresh or raw foods, or the cost of ingredients making up the products, he said.

SAUSALITO SALVAGE SHOP PLANS FASHION SHOW AND 'BOUTIQUE'

Mrs. Clyde Trudell and Mrs. Clement McKaig, co-chairmen of the Sausalito Salvage Shop announce that a second Fashion Show will be presented on Saturday, April 25 at 2 p.m. The first fashion show was given at the Sausalito Yacht Club in 1956.

Setting for the show will be Perry's Hall on Caledonia street near Pine in Sausalito.

The volunteer members are collecting and preparing an array of almost new garments and are polishing gift items to be featured in a "Boutique."

Music will be featured and refreshments will be served. All proceeds will be given to charity.

RABBITS RUN UNEVEN RACE AT AIRPORT

Airliner coming in for landing at Los Angeles International Airport scatters some of the hordes of rabbits that abound on the field. The airport has followed a "live and let live" policy with its wildlife, but trouble is looming. Too many of the bunnies are being killed by planes, and their bodies are attracting buzzards that pose a real hazard to aircraft. (AP Wirephoto)

Developer Must Pay Damages

F. Lloyd Grandi, developer of Fairhills Manor in San Rafael, must pay $20,500 in damages to contractor Herbert A. Crocker for breach of contract, under a Marin Superior Court ruling.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori, who heard the case in March, 1958, handed down the decision in favor of Crocker last Friday. In addition to the damages, the judge ruled that Grandi must turn over three lots in Fairhills Manor to Crocker for a total option price of $14,500.

According to Crocker, he entered into a written contract with Grandi in August, 1951, agreeing to provide Grandi with a subdivision improvement bond to enable Grandi to develop the area. In return Grandi agreed to deed certain lots to him and give him options to buy others, Crocker contended.

Judge Brusatori ruled that Grandi had failed to live up to the contract.

North Solons Propose Rival Water Measure

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A group of northern senators today challenged Gov. Edmund G. Brown's statewide aqueduct program with a rival multi-project plan calling for upward of two billion dollars.

Sen. Randolph Collier (R-Yreka) and six others introduced legislation which proposes allocating the money on a formula patterned after the north-south sharing of state highway funds.

Their rival plan provides for a two-billion-dollar bond issue and use of all tideland oil revenue, except for $16,750,000 a year set aside for beaches and parks.

The area north of the central San Joaquin Valley would receive 51 per cent of the total water money. The area to the south would get the rest.

The Collier legislation appeared yesterday just as Sen. Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) introduced the governor's bill for a 960-million-dollar bond issue to finance an aqueduct to move northern water all the way to San Diego County.

Twenty-six of the 39 senators (one vacancy) joined Burns as co-authors — more than enough to assure passage of the measure.

Brown has asked for 80 million dollars in tideland oil income this year to purchase rights of way, primarily. In reply to questions, he told his news conference yesterday he had determined that the 960 million in bonds, along with the oil funds, would be sufficient to complete the project.

Collier objected, however, that the governor's program involves only the one project, and that the bond issue proposed by Brown was not large enough to develop projects elsewhere in the state.

Collier's bill accompanying his two-billion-dollar bond issue specifies that 27½ per cent of the northern allocation and 21 per cent of the southern amount must be spent for local development.

P.O. Driver Gets Safety Award

The safe driving award was given for his record in five years of employment at the Larkspur office. Bearden resides at 61 Francis avenue, Larkspur, with his wife, Gloria, and daughter, Karen.

Given Army Award

Mary A. Simons, director of the Anti-Aircraft Artillery Mobile Service Club unit, which serves to entertain military personnel at Ft. Baker, last week received a check for $75 for scoring third place in the 6th Army "Operation Service Club" contest. Honorable mention went to Janet Martin, director of the Ft. Baker Service Club.

Consumer Counsel Bill Passes Test

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown's proposal for a state consumer counsel has been approved by an Assembly committee despite fears of one member that it might become a "propaganda agency for the administration."

The governmental efficiency committee yesterday approved the consumer counsel bill by Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles). Seven Democrats voted for the measure and six Republicans opposed it.

REPRESENT CONSUMERS

Richards explained that if his bill became law the counsel would represent the interests of consumers before state agencies such as the Public Utilities Commission and before the Legislature.

He said the counsel would be directed to study consumer needs and propose legislation to satisfy them if he thought new laws were necessary.

SOLON ALARMED

However, Assemblyman Harold K. Levering (R-Los Angeles) said he was "alarmed" by the measure which he said he felt could become a propaganda agency.

Ralph Herbert, representing the Advertising Assn. of the West, opposed the measure which he said was "approaching socialism."

He said the existing Better Business Bureaus and chambers of commerce already do the job which is outlined for the proposed consumer counsel.

Bills To Speed Vote Counting Approved

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Two steps designed to speed up California's vote counting have been approved by a state Senate committee.

The Elections Committee yesterday approved the measures which were suggested by newspaper editors throughout the state after the painfully slow ballot county in the 1958 election.

One of the measures, authored by Sen. James A. Cobey (D-Merced), would require county clerks to keep a running tabulation of votes beginning as soon as the polls close and continuing until all ballots are counted.

The other proposal, offered by Assemblyman Robert Crown (D-Alameda), would permit all counties to use electronic or mechanical devices to count ballots.

It was the first legislative test for Cobey's bill and a semi-final contest for Crown's proposal, which has already been passed by the Assembly.

Managing editors Art Volkerts of the Santa Rosa Press-Democrat and Gordon Sinclair of the Santa Cruz Sentinel presented the case for the bills.

Volkerts told the committee that California editors were "ashamed" of the slowness of recent election counts.

Sinclair said that in the event of a close election for president, California's "archeic" vote counting system might force the entire nation to wait 45 days "before anyone would know who was elected president."

He said if that happened, California would become a national laughing stock.

Cobey said he thought that "next to accuracy, the most important quality for a vote count is speed.

"There is no reason for a candidate to have to wait 45 days to find out if he got elected," Cobey said.

San Geronimo Dance

A dance to raise funds for building a new clubhouse for the San Geronimo Valley Assn. will be held Saturday night in Lagunitas School. Dancing will start at 8:30 p.m. to the music of the Starrays.

The average American took 10,000 steps in 1957, according to a shoe research organization.

State Declares War Against 'Hopper Threat

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—An organized fight against a threatened grasshopper attack on California cropland was under way today by the state Bureau of Entomology.

The bureau reported that grasshoppers were hatching in the barren hills in Kern and San Luis Obispo Counties and threatened to move into vegetable and field crops.

Martin Poyner, assistant state leader of grasshopper control, said farmers in the Edison-Arvin, Wheeler Ridge and Maricopa areas had organized a cooperative rangeland grasshopper control program.

The plan calls for the spraying of some 200,000 acres in the foothills where the hatching is under way. Poyner said grasshopper counts ranged from 5 to 50 hoppers per square yard with the average count running about 25 per square yard, which is considered to be a heavy infestation.

Bill To Junk Presidential Primary Gains

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Senate Elections Committee voted yesterday to junk California's presidential primary election in favor of a party convention.

The committee sent along to the Senate floor a bill by Sen. James A. Cobey (D-Merced) which would empower the State Central Committee to select delegates to the national party conventions.

At the present time, the voters choose a slate of delegates pledged to a specific candidate. However, only the name of the candidate—not the names of members of the proposed delegation—appear on the ballot.

Sen. Nelson Dilworth (R-Hemet), the only Republican member of the committee present at the meeting, opposed the measure. He cast the lone "no" vote.

Contract Award For Nick's Cove Delayed Again

Awarding of a contract for expansion and improvement of Miller Park boating facilities at Nick's Cove on Tomales Bay was put off for another week yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham said he is attempting to obtain a supplementary state allocation of $10,000 to add to the $33,092 approved for the Nick's Cove project last year by the state Wildlife Conservation Board.

All five bids, opened March 17, are above the 1958 allocation, which was based on cost estimates made two years ago. Low bidder was Carey Brothers Construction Co. of Greenbrae at $43,287.

Brigham, who appeared hopeful about getting additional state funds, said he may not have the answer before the board's April 14 meeting. On the chance that word will come sooner, the board put the matter over one week.

Boy With Pistol Hits Greyhound Bus

Newton James Ward of Forest Knolls, the bus driver, said he saw a boy level what appeared to be a toy pistol as he was headed toward San Rafael near Alexander avenue.

Corte Madera Lot Rezoning Postponed

The Corte Madera Planning Commission Monday voted to continue the public hearing on the proposed rezoning of four lots in Sunnyside Terrace until its next regular meeting, April 13.

Chairman John Adlard said the commissioners felt they wanted more information before making a decision. The proposal is the latest of a series of requests by Carl S. Vella and Cleland O. Whitton of San Francisco to get their property cleared for apartment development.

The four lots are on Redwood avenue. Present zoning would allow only one family per every 4,000 square feet of land. The request is to allow one family per 2,000 square feet. Fourteen other lots in the proposed subdivision would be left in their present zoning.

Adlard said fewer than a dozen nearby residents attended the hearing to protest the increased population density.

In its only other action, the commission approved a precise plan for site development of the town park and ordered it sent on to the town council for approval.

Six Magazine Solicitors Arrested

Sausalito police and sheriff's deputies Monday arrested six youthful magazine solicitors in Southern Marin who were charged with selling subscriptions without a license.

Ellene Kobs, 19, and Robert Talanuil, 18, both of whom gave an Oakland hotel as their address, were arrested by Sausalito police near Second and Main streets after numerous complaints from householders in area, according to Police Chief Howard W. Goerndt.

About the same time, four other solicitors, giving the same address, were picked up near the north city limits and turned over the sheriff's office since they were operating in county territory.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
(Advertisement)
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Dixie School District, Marin County, California, will receive bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services for the clearing, grading, and storm drainage work on the Dixie Intermediate School site, Terra Linda, Marin County, California.
Each bid to be in accordance with the plans and specifications now on file with John Lyon Reid and Partners, 1019 Market Street, San Francisco 3, California, where same may be examined and copies obtained upon deposit of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per set, which deposit will be refunded upon the return of such copies in good condition within five days after the bids are opened.
Each bid shall be made on a form to be obtained at the office of the Architect, and must be accompanied by a certified check or Bid Bond for 10% of the bid amount, made payable to the order of the Dixie School District. Bids must be sealed and filed with the District, whose address is 4775 Redwood Highway San Rafael, California, prior to 4:00 P. M., April 16, 1959, at which time they will be publicly opened and declared in the office of the Board.
The above mentioned check shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract, if awarded the work, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract or to furnish the necessary bonds after being requested to do so by the Board of Trustees of the Dixie School District.
The successful bidder will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to 50% of the contract price and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Board of Trustees of the Dixie School District.
Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California, or local law thereto applicable, the Board of Trustees of the Dixie School District has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, which will be awarded the successful bidder.

Solon Acts To Outlaw Subliminal Commercials

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill the author said would "outlaw brainwashing of radio and television audiences" by banning subliminal commercials was ready for introduction today in the Senate.

"I've been informed," said Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles), the author of the bill, "that advertising companies are spending large sums of money researching subliminal advertising.

"They're not spending this money for nothing and probably will spring it as soon as they feel it's perfected. By then it could be too late for us to do anything against it."

Subliminal radio and television commercials are those which aim at bypassing the conscious mind of members of the audience—much like hypnosis—in getting the message across, Richards said.

"The efforts of the advertising industry first were directed to experimentation in laboratories and then advanced to limited audience reaction tests," Richards said. "It's now gone beyond the theoretical and laboratory stage.

"The information I've received over the last six months leads me to believe that major efforts are pending in the advertising industry in California to place in operation subliminal techniques.

Richards' bill would state that "no person shall transmit within the state any radio or television signal which carries any advertisement or other message which is perceptible only to the subconscious mind or as to which the normal listener or viewer would be consciously unaware except subliminally."

Building Racket Probe Authorized

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—An investigation into alleged sharp practices in the building alteration, repair and remodeling industry was approved by the Senate yesterday.

The upper house passed a measure authorizing the investigation and said that sharp practices "are the result of the operation of the so-called 'suede shoe boys' in this industry."

They contract with home owners to do repair work at a high price and then sell the contracts to someone else at a extremely low figure. They then take the difference and flee the area.

'DUEL OF WITS'—AND RAPIER-SHARP

Professor Pearson (Milton Schwartz) and Bishop Gregory (Ralph Quaglin) cross swords as the Reverend Mother (Evelyn Leonardi) tries to reconcile their differences in this scene from "The Velvet Glove," to be presented April 9, 10 and 12 in St. Raphael's auditorium by St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild. 4-Year Assembly Terms Approved

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Four-year terms for state assemblymen?

The Assembly Constitutional Amendments Committee was all for it yesterday.

It approved a measure by Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee (R-Salinas) which would be put to popular vote in 1960 if it clears both houses of the Legislature.

Milton Berle, George Burns Join Hands

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Milton Berle and George Burns have announced formation of a new TV production company, B and B Productions.

Its first project will be 39 half-hour filmed shows, "Milton Berle Comedy Theater."

Berle, after 11 years on live television, will make his debut on the filmed medium as host of all 39 shows and star of 13. Burns will be executive producer.

Burns' wife, Gracie Allen, retired a year ago from the veteran comedy team of Burns and Allen and now appears only in re-runs of their show. Burns in 1954 established McCadden Productions, which produces "The Bob Cummings Show," "The People's Choice" starring Jackie Cooper, and other television shows. The venture with Berle does not affect McCadden Productions, a spokesman said.

Trousers Of Jail Inmate Catch Fire

The victim, Mickey Dooley, 22, of Oakland, was treated for burns on his left leg at San Rafael General Hospital, then returned to jail. He was freed the same day in Marin Municipal Court.

Civic Center Is Topic For Radio Panel

Whether Marin County voters should determine the issue of the proposed civic center will be discussed by four panelists on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Speakers will include Donald A. Jensen, county administrator; James A. Marshall, county supervisor, and two members of the Marin Citizens Committee, which advocates the ballot procedure for deciding the issue—James Streiff and Eugene Neuschwander, both of Greenbrae.

The program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be rebroadcast from a tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Liz Won't Lecture At UCLA

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The University of California at Los Angeles today retired actress Elizabeth Taylor as a visiting lecturer before she even had a chance to pay her first visit.

Dr. William Melnitz, head of UCLA's theater department, said the university had received letters from "unhappy housewives" all over the country ever since a representative of Miss Taylor spread the word several weeks ago she would lecture to a motion picture class.

Melnitz said there had been quite a few red faces around his department since word got out that the 27-year-old actress was supposed to tell a symposium about life in the movie business.

He explained:

"One of our staff members met Miss Taylor's representative on a movie set. The representative asked if we would like to have Miss Taylor talk to our students. Our man said, 'Why not?' It's common practice for us to have top theatrical people address our students.

"Well, the next thing we knew, that man spread the word to everybody that Miss Taylor had been invited. I am the head of the department, and I can tell you I never issued an invitation."

Ex-Aide Praises Welfare Dept.

Irving Cullen, who resigned recently as a child welfare worker in the county's family public assistance program, wrote the letter. He is now director of welfare for the city of Elko, Nev.

Cullen said he knew of "no finer public agency." He praised the staff, its ability and attitude, and gave major credit to the administration of welfare director Betty Presley.

DESIGN WINS PRIZE FOR ARCHITECT

John Carl Warnecke, San Francisco architect, won top honors in a national school and office building design competition in New York, conducted by the editors of School Executive and Educational Business, for his design of Oxtoby Hall, residence hall at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, shown above. The award was announced yesterday.

CLUB TO HONOR 3 VETERANS

After 103 Years Of Traveling, 2 Commuters Finally To Meet

Two veteran Mill Valley-to-San Francisco commuters, with 103 years of travel between them, will meet for the first time Friday evening and have an opportunity to get acquainted at the annual potluck dinner of the Mill Valley Commuters Club at the Outdoor Art Club.

The two will be joined by a third commuter with only 48 years commuting time, but who knows them both.

All three, still regular commuters, will be honored guests, according to George Wickham, club president.

SENIOR COMMUTER

Senior commuter of the group is Robert A. Byrne, 66, of 9 Dell street, who started commuting in 1907 on steam trains and ferries while still a school boy. He worked for an engraving firm on McAllister street in San Francisco and subsequently attended Sacred Heart High School.

After graduation, Byrne worked for Albers Brothers Milling Co., and in World War II became an Army transportation worker. After the war, he joined the shipping department of Thomas J. Lipton, Inc., where he is now employed.

Of the Byrnes' six children, three live in Mill Valley, one in Santa Venetia and one in Novato. He makes his home with his son, Robert C. Byrne.

Although still a regular commuter, he spends as much time as possible caring for his collection of flowers and shrubs.

Adolph Eberhart was born in San Francisco in 1867, but it was not until 1911 that he moved to Mill Valley to become a regular commuter.

ACTIVE AT 92

Today, at the age of 92, Eberhart is still paymaster of San Francisco's White House department store, where he goes every other day. He is looking ahead to April 22 when he will observe his 70th anniversary with the store and to May 1, when he becomes 93 years old.

He is also looking forward to next month's statewide convention of the Native Sons of the Golden West in San Rafael, where he will also be honored in recognition of his attendance as a delegate at a previous NSGW conclave in San Rafael —that one in 1889.

Four In Drunk Driving Cases Pay Fines Totaling $900

Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. ordered Mrs. Marion Gladys Silva, 47 of Petaluma, to pay a $250 fine as a condition of probation. She was arrested by the California Highway Patrol March 20 on Atherton avenue, Novato.

Fred Melvin Johnson, 33, of San Francisco, was fined $250 for drunken driving with a prior conviction and sentenced to five days in the county jail. The Highway Patrol arrested him last Wednesday on Tiburon boulevard. He was convicted on a similar charge in Oakland in 1957.

Gwendolyn Marie Mulvehill, 42, of Cielo Rancho, Ignacio, was fined $200 for driving on Highway 101 while intoxicated. She was arrested Thursday by the Highway Patrol.

Judge Sims levied a $200 fine against Joseph Fisher, 29, of Santa Rosa, who was arrested March 7 on Highway 101.

Lagoon Owners Elect Officers

Dr. John H. Flint and Davies are new members on the nine-man board of directors. Other directors are Howard B. Allen, re-elected to a second three year term, Belvedere Mayor Ralph Y. Meyers, Edward Brash, Arthur Dahl and Thomas L. Wark.

ATTENTION, MASTER GREENFIELD!

Jar Of Pickles Stirs Emergency

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — A jar of pickles brought the Cheyenne fire department on the run recently.

Mrs. W. H. Taylor dropped the pickles. The jar broke and juice ran into a floor plug. It caused a short.

Raises Given Men In Building Trades

NEW YORK (UPI) — The average construction worker got a pay raise last year of 15 cents an hour, boosting his hourly earnings by year-end to $3.34, according to Engineering News-Record.

Geographically, wages rose most on the West Coast — 20 cents an hour. Among trades, electrical workers scored the biggest advance with their wages rising 18 cents an hour.

HENS LIKE IT, TOO

Music Hath Powers To Induce Bossy To Increase Milk Yield

NEW YORK (UPI) — The beat of piped-in music has production humming in 20,000 plants and offices across the nation.

And on a poultry farm in Tariffville, Conn., Rock Cornish hens have been putting on more weight despite a reduction in rations — since lilting tunes have invaded the hen house.

To prove that music has an effect on the senses, medical science has run some strange experiments.

Dr. Charles M. Diserins, of the University of Cincinnati, tested 10 men for strength of grip. Six of them were stronger when music was played.

Another experimenter played the "National Emblem March" and measured physiological response to the beat. Just about every body function was stimulated, including the cardiovascular system, muscular activity, working power, digestion and secretions.

In a six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden, riders who pedalled to music averaged 19.6 miles per hour; those with out, 17.9 miles per hour.

Scientists first analyzed the power of music in industry in 1938, charting the effect of melody on girls in a chocolate factory. Output improved from 6.2 to 10.2 per cent when music was played.

From coast to coast, it is estimated that 50 million persons work or play each day to piped-in music.

Uses range from cradle to grave. Up-to-the-minute delivery suites in maternity hospitals use it. And so does the Citizens Mortuary in Sacramento, Calif.

TOP AIRMAN AT HAMILTON

A/1c Donald R. Carson, an electronics expert in the Western Air Defense Force Directorate of Electronics at Hamilton Air Force Base, has been named Hamilton's "Airman of the Month" for February. Carson, 24, came to Hamilton in January, after service at Parks Air Force Base at Pleasanton; Keesler AFB in Mississippi, and Colville Air Force Station in Washington. At Hamilton, he monitors radar performance and checks radar equipment in WADF installations. (Air Force photo)

SAC Deputy Chief Believes It'll Be Long Before Planes Outmoded

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — The husky, brown-haired major general who helps chart the Strategic Air Command's war plans believes that missiles will not completely replace the manned bomber in the "foreseeable future."

Maj. Gen. James V. Edmundson, the 42-year-old deputy director of SAC operations, said that as missiles became proven weapons" they will replace airplanes in "any job they can do better."

"But," he said, "we'll always need men along on any mission requiring accuracy and a high yield."

His respect for the bomber is based on 6,700 hours of Air Force flying time — including 1,800 hours compiled during the 139 World War II and Korean combat missions. Edmundson, a veteran of 21 years in the Air Force, was credited with sinking the first Japanese submarine in World War II.

Edmundson's office opens into the underground war room at Offutt Air Force Base near here where a crew of elite officers would direct SAC's counter-attack in the event of aggression.

On huge sliding panels in the war room are detailed charts out-lining the complex strategy to be used in case of war. Edmundson and Maj. Gen. Robert H. Terrill, director of SAC operations, are the chief architects of those plans.

With the aid of a highly trained staff and a battery of electronic computors, the operations officers sort through mountains of information to determine which targets should have priority, how they should be reached, where in-the-air refueling should be set up and the other intricate details of a nuclear counter-offensive.

Edmundson, whose home is Santa Monica, said the problems are made even more complex because the plans must take into consideration all of the many factors which cannot be pre-determined. Those factors include weather and damages sustained in the enemy attack and the counter-attack.

Edmundson said the biggest problem facing SAC is the "survival of the force so a counter-attack can be launched." He said the two key defenses are dispersal of the force and an alert system which will get the counter-attacking planes into the air.

Two of the key ingredients in future war plans are the sleek B 58 and the mighty B 70. Like the missiles, they are not yet proven weapons, but Edmundson said they are only a "couple of years away."

The swept-wing B 58 Hustler which can fly twice the speed of sound is scheduled to replace the B 47 medium bomber, present workhorse of SAC's armada.

Mineral Output Declines In U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Domestic mineral output in 1958 was worth $16,400,000,000, a decline of $1,750,000,000 from the value of 1957 production, according to a preliminary report by the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

Metal production, down 25.8 per cent from a year earlier, accounted for much of the overall decline, the report indicated.

Busy Technicians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's missile and aircraft industry employs more scientists and engineers in research and development than any other industry, says the National Science Foundation. Planes, official publication of the Aircraft Industries Assn., reported 85,000 scientists and engineers work in the aircraft and missile industry, of which 52,000 are directly connected with research and development.

IN ITALY

Spaghetti Enshrined In Museum

PONTEDASSIO, Italy (UPI) — Italy has for ages been a land of museums and spaghetti.

No wonder that one day someone should think of creating a spaghetti museum.

Political, municipal and church authorities attended the occasion together with humorists and cartoonists, who took the day off from their annual congress at nearby Bordighera.

On the initiative of a well-known spaghetti manufacturer who offered his home here, everything that tells the story of spaghetti-making has been collected for exhibition.

On exhibit are ancient and modern poems, paintings, etchings and photographs dealing with spaghetti; cook books with thousands of recipes for spaghetti, government decrees dating back to 1602 which fixed the price of spaghetti, and one decree providing up to 10 years in jail for anyone employing harmful ingredients for the manufacture of spaghetti.

One item which proud Italians may not like is a reminder in the form of a tale by traveler Marco Polo that the Chinese discovered spaghetti as much as 700 years ago.

HE'S GOT AN ISLAND IN A HIGHWAY

Doug M. Smiley surveys a strip of land he owns which is smack dab in the middle of the Baltimore-Washington, D.C., parkway. The Bureau of Public Roads systematically purchased the land to the right and left of Smiley's 10 by 214 foot strip, but neglected to buy his "island." He's negotiating the matter now. Housework Helps Wives' Self-Esteem

ANN ARBOR, Mich (UPI) — Pssst, Husbands:

Half the nation's married women say housework helps their self esteem. But the yen for dusting isn't necessarily a natural instinct, say sociologists at the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research.

The Institute conducted a nationwide survey and found that most teen-aged girls admit they want to marry, but fewer than one in 10 said they want to become housewives. Marriage brings about the change of attitude toward household chores, the Institute said.

STRATEGIC MANEUVER

British Gen. Sir Hugh Stockwell shows his form on tiddly-winks board during a world championship match at the Empress Club in London which Sir Hugh played for the Duke of Edinburgh's Empress Club team which challenged the championship Cambridge University team and lost. Sir Hugh's form here may, or may not, have been cricket, but the duke did call for his team to use the British equivalent to dirty pool for charity's sake since the match was a benefit for the National Playing Fields Assn.

Rebuilding Of Historic Bridge Erases Major Seoul War Scar

SEOUL (UPI)—One of this capital city's few remaining major scars of the Korean conflict was erased with the completion of reconstruction of the historical Han River bridge.

The 2,762-foot-long highway bridge was reopened to traffic after several months of repair work which brought it back to pre-war condition.

Following a brief ceremony on the sand bank just below the bridge, President Syngman Rhee cut a multi-colored tape and became the first man to cross the bridge since it was closed last fall.

Built by the Japanese in 1937, the highway bridge has been the southern gateway to the city of Seoul, spanning the historic Han River across which many a bloody battle was fought during the three-year Korean conflict.

ROK army engineers blew it up immediately after North Korean Communists entered Seoul in the early morning hours of June 28, 1950, only three days after the war broke out.

The demolition helped keep the Communist troops from advancing beyond the river for a week, giving badly battered South Korean forces valuable time to regroup.

But the engineer officer who gave the demolition order later was court-martialed and executed for knocking the bridge off a little too early, thereby cutting the escape route for thousands of friendly troops and fleeing civilians.

After the United Nations forces recaptured Seoul for the second time in the summer of 1951, the bridge was repaired for temporary military use.

With the return of the ROK government to Seoul from the wartime capital city of Pusan in 1953, Korean officials began drawing up plans to rehabilitate it.

Necessary materials began to arrive early in 1957 under the American aid program, and the work to build three halfmoon-shaped steel spans that were knocked out started in March the same year.

The actual installation and repair work on the bridge did not start until after Sept. 12, when the Home Ministry turned down a bid by a construction company to do the job for only 1,000 hwan ($2.) on grounds that the offer was ridiculous and insincere. The company which made the offer did it as a promotion move and insisted the offer was sincere.

Another construction company obtained the contract by offering to do it for 40 million hwan ($80,000).

Officials of the Home Ministry's public works bureau said the repair project cost them a total of $500,000 in American aid funds and 785 million hwan ($1,579,000) in local currency.

They claim that although the Han bridge is not the longest one in Korea, it certainly is the "biggest" in the country.

Seoul citizens were happy to see the bridge reconstructed because they no longer have to walk across the pontoon bridge built for pedestrians during the repair period. What's more, they now can ride streetcars across the bridge as they did before the fighting nine years ago.

Speedup Backfires

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Three city-employed garbage collectors installed a new work plan that backfired. They rushed through their work, then went home to relax the rest of the day. They were found out and given three to five day suspensions.

Medical Monitoring Devices Predicted

KEENE, N. H. (UPI) — "No, No! Don't hit that golf ball!"

"Better get off the tennis court now. One more game and you could have a heart attack."

Is the day coming when a man playing on a golf course or tennis court will be advised, by remote control, to ease up immediately or run the risk of a coronary?

"Perhaps one day in the not-too-distant future," says Horace D. Gilbert, president of Miniature Precision Bearings, Inc., "there will be medical monitoring services which, for a monthly fee, will listen in on a man's heart beat constantly — and warn him of impending danger."

Such monitoring, Gilbert believes, could be accomplished through tiny electronic devices attached to strategic parts of the body.

"Dramatic examples of how this is possible have been demonstrated in the various experiments with artificial satellites and rocketry," said Gilbert.

"We now can keep track of the welfare of an animal as small as a mouse in the nose cone of a rocket. The Russians were able to monitor the heart beat and breathing of the dog in their second satellite. These same principles, which will be refined in the future, can be applied to the man on the tennis court with suspected or known heart trouble."

The tiny electronic devices would transmit danger signals to a central recording sation. Warnings then could be flashed back to the individual, no matter where he was.

Miniaturization already has produced a transistor the size of a cufflink, a microphone the size of a grain of rice and even the 11-pound instrument package put together for the first Explorer satellite.

Gilbert said the housewife also will benefit greatly from miniaturization. Lighter and more efficient vacuum cleaners have been made through miniaturization. Compressors for refrigerators have also been miniaturized, leaving more space for food storage.

"Then again," Gilbert added, "there are some things that may never be miniaturized. Like the waffle iron. Manufacturers could make them smaller, but who wants smaller waffles?"

Cooperation Among Livestock

One day Lecornu hid behind a tree. The goat climbed onto a stump in the field and started baa-ing. A burro sauntered over to the stump and the goat leaped onto his back.

Then the burro trotted to the fence and the goat bounded over the barrier.

Tips For Sitters

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Firemen here are training baby sitters. Disturbed by reports across the nation of youngsters meeting accidental death while in the custody of sitters, the firemen decided to teach first aid and fire safety.

THIS CONTROLS AUTO EXHAUST

Experimental device designed to control auto exhaust fumes, thus helping reduce smog, get final check in Detroit automotive laboratory before being flown to California. Two of the devices have been placed in the hands of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District and two went to the Los Angeles smog district. The low temperature catalytic device is designed to replace regular muffler. The converter burns hydrocarbons or traces of fuel in the exhaust stream by the chemical action of a catalyst.

Book Offers Safe Driving Tips To Kids

CHICAGO (UPI)—"Chicken out when common sense tells you it's time to give in. Never mind who's right. Be smart—stay alive."

That's the advice to teen-agers from professional drivers—the state patrolman, the test track driver, the trucker — who have found that safe driving is a matter of experience and attitude.

Their safe-driving tip—and many others—is offered in a booklet written by the National Safety Council and distributed by the Standard Oil Co. (of Indiana) and its marketing affiliates, the American Oil Co. and the Utah Oil Refining Co.

The Safety Council calls the booklet "one of the most important contributions to safety ever made."

"We want to do everything we can to reduce the traffic toll, and this is one way we can help," said Frank O. Prior, board chairman of Standard Oil.

The booklet says teen-agers are involved in twice as many fatal accidents for the number of miles they drive as motorists over 25 years of age. It adds that teen-agers who have received driver education don't have half as many accidents as those who haven't.

Here are the tips:

Don't show off or clown behind the wheel.

Have guts enough behind the wheel to chicken out when common sense tells you it's time to give in. Never mind who's right. Be smart — stay alive!

The squeal of tires and roar of the exhaust may sound like hot stuff to a driver who needs it to build up his ego. But it tags him as strictly an amateur to the real pro.

Would your coach send in a player who had been drinking? Well, it goes double for driving. Remember — a half-loaded driver is more dangerous than a loaded gun.

Coffee Break Getting Ever More Popular

WILLOW GROVE, Pa., (UPI) — The "coffee break" not only has become generally accepted in U.S. business operations, according to a survey, but more often than not there's more than one a day.

The National Office Management Assn. surveyed nearly 2,000 firms in the U.S. and Canada, it reports, and found that coffee breaks in the working day, most of them now permit two one in the morning and one in the afternoon, normally of 15 minutes each.

Western America is more generous with coffee breaks than the East, the survey showed. In the West, 93 per cent of businesses checked allow two breaks; the Canadian average was 80 per cent.

For all firms checked in Canada and this country, the average was 81 per cent with regularly scheduled breaks. Fourteen per cent of the employers said they allowed workers to have coffee or other refreshment on a non-scheduled basis.

Major benefit reported: the breaks served as morale boosters. Major complaint: Workers did not get back to work promptly afterwards.

LETTERS CHEER HOSPITAL PATIENTS

Six of Mrs. Donovan Cooke's daughters at home — Virginia, Victoria, Johanna, Heidi, Mercedes and Beatrice— wrote their mother while she was in Marin General Hospital for birth of a seventh daughter, Gretchen. To encourage letters to hospital patients, a new program has been initiated with stationery supplied through cooperation of the Independent-Journal. Mrs. Cooke is the wife of Dr. Donovan Cooke of Belvedere. (George Wheeler photo)

Port Once Pirate Lair Busy With Commerce

PORT ROYAL, S. C. (UPI) — Port Royal, once the blood-drenched capital of the Spanish Main, is stirring again, but this time with peace-time commerce.

Port Royal, 50 miles south of Charleston, S. C., was officially reborn last October with high state and military officials attending dedication of new $1,500,000 dock and warehouse facilities.

The first ocean vessel of the new Port Royal era was the Georg Russ out of Hamburg, Germany. From now on the modern 500-foot pier will berth an increasing number of large freighters.

The peaceful plying of world trade in the old port is in sharp contrast to the bloody days 250 years ago when "Blackbeard" Edward Teach and other buccaneers left the shelter of the port for lightning raids up and down the Spanish Main.

Port Royal was discovered in 1525 by a swashbuckling Spaniard, Pedro de Quexos. But no attempt to settle the area was made until Captain Jean Rebault of France sailed into the harbor in 1562 and saw a port "large enough to float all the navies in the world."

The French called the harbor Port Royal and a garrison of some 30 men set up camp in the area in preparation for families which were to follow.

Spanish settlers came in 1566. but Indians drove them off. When another Spanish settlement was attempted in 1587 England's Sir Francis Drake staged a raid and tumbled the Spaniards back to St. Augustine.

Lord Cardress of Scotland brought a hardy band of Scots to Port Royal in 1684, but two years later the Spaniards staged a raid from St. Augustine. They slaughtered men, women and children as well as razing nearby English plantations.

Meanwhile, the pirate flag had gone up on ships along the Carolina coast and Robert Searle struck out at shipping from hideaways in the Port Royal area. He was followed in 1705 by "Blackbeard," who ravaged coastal commerce with four ships and 400 gold-seeking men. Stede Bonnet, that most curious of pirates — a gentleman, well-educated and the most cruel of the lot — plundered the Port Royal area in 1718.

But a stubborn and courageous governor at Charleston — Robert Johnson — impressed merchant vessels into service and went out after the black-flagged ships.

Teach was captured in a bitter fight, Bonnet was hanged and the renegade British officer Richard Worley was killed on deck. Aboard Worley's swift ship were found 30 young women being held as hostages. Worley had planned to sell them as indentured servants to unscrupulous planters and townsmen.

By 1740, Port Royal had become a bustling center for the indigo trade and 20 years later the "seed from Madagascar" — rice — was moving from the seaport.

The Revolution halted the burgeoning commerce, though the battle of Charleston in 1776 saved Port Royal for four years from British occupation. Then Charleston fell, and with it the thriving little port to the south.

Rice and indigo again began moving eastward from Port Royal after the war and by the Civil War, Port Royal was challenging Charleston as a major Atlantic port.

But on Nov. 7, 1861, seaman and troops conquered the two forts outside Port Royal harbor, ending its days as a Confederate bastion.

Reconstruction came hard to Port Royal, while Charleston returned to its position as a world port. The rice trade dwindled out in 1912 — indigo had gone almost a century before.

Secret's Out On Getting Good Shave

NEW YORK (UPI)—If a man can brush his teeth, make a cup of coffee, or read a newspaper, there's no reason for him to get a poor shave. The secret, according to shaving authority Elbridge J. Casselman, is to brush teeth, make coffee or read the newspaper while your face is wet.

Casselman says that even though most men spend between 10 and 15 minutes a day shaving, they often skip the most important step in the process.

"They don't soften the beard properly," he complained. "It takes three minutes of soaking to soften the beard properly. That way, the blade lasts longer and you get a smoother shave. Men with gray or white hair should soak the beard a little longer because their hair is more resistant to softening."

Casselman is a tall, white-haired gentleman who is the inspirationally clean-shaven manager of research and development for Gem Razors in Staunton, Va.

His shaving masterpiece, entitled, "Factors Involved in Satisfactory Shaving," was published by the American Medical Assn. in 1937 and still is the authoritative work on the subject.

"First wash your face with hot water and toilet soap. Then rinse it. This removes the grit and the natural oils. Then wash and rinse the face again.

"I tell men to wash again mainly to kill time. Let those hairs soak. If three minutes aren't consumed yet, they'd better find a way to kill more time.

"Personally, I wash my face twice and go into the kitchen to put up the coffee. I leave my face wet. Some men brush their teeth after that second rinse. Others put on their socks and shoes while the beard soaks. Or take a shower. That can kill 10 minutes and that's the best way.

"But," added Casselman, "the main thing is to kill three minutes before lathering up. It's a management problem."

Chippewa Indians Had A Harsh Word For It

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — The Chippewa Indian word Winnibigoshish means filthy, bad, miserable, wretched water, and is the name of a Minnesota lake.

The Chippewas weren't always that harsh in their descriptions. Their language is sometimes called the Italian of the Indian language because of its musical quality.

For example Mississippi is a Chippewa word meaning Great River. Saganaga lake in northern Minnesota takes its name from its many islands. Mahnomen, a Minnesota community, means wild rice in English and Chisago Lake means large and lovely.

The Sioux Indians also contributed their share of titles to Minnesota. The name of the state means sky-tinted water. Minnehaha, made famous by Henry Longfellow, means laughing water. Minneapolis is a combination of the Sioux word for water and the Greek word for city.

Action Urged To Prop Up Leaning Tower

PISA, Italy (UPI)—Is the leaning Tower of Pisa going to topple? And if so, what can be done about it?

Many experts predict that the 179-foot tower, built almost 800 years ago, will fall over anywhere from 50 to 300 years from now unless something is done.

Their predictions are based on the fact that the white marble structure has been leaning at an alarming rate in recent years. Now 17 feet, 2½ inches out of plumb, it has tilted 8½ inches since 1910 — about twice the rate of the preceding 80 years. In 1958, it leaned .046 of an inch, greatest in any recorded year.

All agree that the lean is due to the soft, water-permeated ground under its base in the Piazza dei Miracoli. In fact, the tower started leaning right at the start—back in 1174 A.D. After building the first three stories, the co-architects, Bonanno and Guglielmo, gave up in disgust. Two hundred years later, another architect finished the job. He tried to correct the slant by angling the last five floors perpendicular to the base, but they leaned too.

Prof. Giovanni Boaga, a Rome engineer, is one of those advocating drastic action—and right away. He proposed that the tower be dismantled and that a thick concrete slab be sunk 40 feet into the ground, over which the structure would be reassembled. He estimates that it would take five years and cost about $9,000,000.

Another proposal is for pumping out some of the sand about the base on the far side of the lean, thus enabling the tower to shift back to a vertical position by itself.

But the "Pisanos," the town folk who depend for their daily bread on the great curiosity of tourists in the leaning tower, are fearful of any meddling. They point out that injections of concrete to stiffen the soil and all the other measures taken to date, have not helped one bit. Further, they say accurate records have only been kept since 1910 — not long enough to establish a basis for alarming predictions.

They believe the tower has now attained a kind of "suspended balance" which will last indefinitely and that any kind of tampering will only mean its doom.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Here Are Regulations For Self-Employed

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Were you self-employed in 1958?

If your self-employment earnings were more than $400 and you are not otherwise exempt, then you owe Uncle Sam 3⅜ per cent (.03375 per cent) of your net self-employment income, but not more than $141.75. This is 3⅜ per cent on $4,200, the maximum ammount that is taxed.

Peter J. Wikel

This is your social security tax and is used to pay for your retirement pension at age 65, etc.

Income from the following occupations is exempt from this tax for the calendar year 1958.

1. Doctors of medicine.

2. Christian Science practitioners are not subject to this tax, unless they elect to be covered by filing form 2031.

3. Religious services — Income from the performance of service by a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church in the exercise of his ministry or by a member of a religious order in the exercise of duties required by such order, unless he elects to be covered by filing form 2031.

4. Employees and public officials—Income from the performance of service as (a) a public official, including a notary public; (b) an employee or employee representative under the railroad retirement system; or (c) an employee.

Your self-employment income, for tax purposes, is reduced by the amount of any salary or wages you had which were subject to FICA tax. If you received wages in excess of $4,200 then your self-employment income is not subject to tax.

This tax is reported on Schedule C attached to your 1958 income tax return and the tax is paid with your income tax for 1958.

Popular Salesman Is Camera-Shy

RAVENNA, Ohio (UPI)—Traveling salesman James N. Zeh is one of the most popular callers at police stations in Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. He's also the most camera shy.

Zeh sells pistols, riot guns, tear gas, leg irons, blackjacks, handcuffs and similar hardware to policemen in the three-state area. When he hits the road in his station wagon he's a rolling arsenal.

"I've got about 30 revolvers in my car," Zeh said. "All I need is to have some thug see my photograph so he could hijack me. He'd have the arsenal, complete with bullets."

COOPERATIVE EFFORT

BALTIMORE (AP)—The police commissioner got a letter which commended three officers—for good work below the line of duty, you might say.

One furnished a bent paper clip, another tied it to a piece of string and a third manipulated the string to pull the watch out from under the grate.

U.S.-Canada Link Hailed As Unique

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the most dramatic proofs the United States can give the world that when it extends the hand of friendship it has no A-bombs up its sleeve is the undefended, 3,987-mile U.S.-Canadian border.

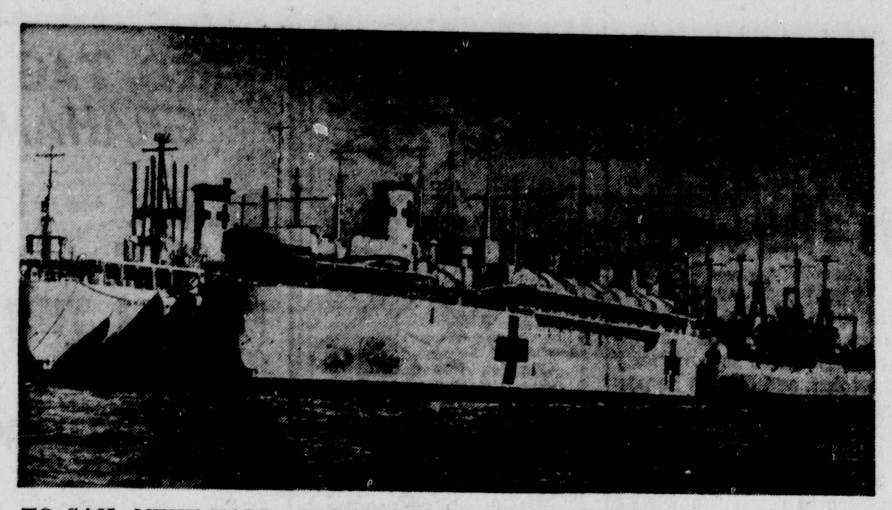
"We're a small country living next door to a colossus, but we're not afraid; this is a simple fact but I think it's unique," said John W. Fisher, executive director of the Canadian Tourist Assn.

Fisher pointed out that more than 30 million Canadians and Americans cross the border freely each year, that Canadians spend a bulk of their annual $400 million tourist money in the U.S., and Americans leave an average $300 million a year north of the border.

"Where in the world today," Fisher asked, "can you find a border at which a great powerful nation lives next door to a small nation and the small nation is not worried and fearful, is not subjected either to economic or political pressure?"

Undisturbed TV

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The television set in George Pernicano's restaurant has to compete with the jukebox and the singing chef. So Pernicano installed headsets for patrons who insist on TV with their meals.



TO SAIL NEXT FALL—This is the hospital ship Consolation, foreground, which is scheduled to sail next fall on its maiden voyage as a floating medical school in southeast Asia. The vessel, loaned by the Navy and operated on a non-profit basis by American President Lines, is being sent out by People to People Health Foundations. The 800-bed ship, idle since 1955, is shown at Hunters Point Shipyard. (AP Wirephoto)

Fund Drive Starts For Hospital Ship Project

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The People-to-People Health Foundation has launched a $3,500,000 fund-raising drive aimed at sending the hospital ship Consolation abroad on a unique humanitarian project.

The foundation's president, Dr. William B. Walsh, outlined the project last week after inspecting the Consolation, which is in mothballs here.

The ship is to become a floating medical center which will be sent to southeast Asia where it will be used "to train native physicians in new techniques and give them on-the-scene medical training."

It's all part of the HOPE (Health Opportunity for People Everywhere) project, which aims to train thousands of persons overseas in basic medical skills. The People-to-People Foundation has been created to further this ambitious aim.

Walsh, 37, an energetic Washington D.C. physician and former doctor in the Korean conflict, has been named by President Eisenhower to head the group.

The Navy has agreed to loan the 15,000-ton vessel for the project, and the American President Lines has tentatively agreed to operate in on a non-profit basis.

Physicians and nurses have offered their services for the floating hospital and medical center and many donations from corporations and individuals have already been received, according to Dr. Walsh.

The ship's primary mission will be to train local technicians such as inoculationists, midwives and X-ray operators in modern techniques. The 800-bed ship will also offer treatment to victims of such rampant diseases as tuberculosis.

The project also includes plans to send teams of physicians and nurses into inland areas to train local personnel.

After visiting the Consolation, Dr. Walsh concluded that it could be placed in operation in 30 days. The ship is equipped with $382,000 worth of medical equipment.

"The mission will be inspiring evidence that people in this country are deeply concerned about the people in other countries as human beings," Dr. Walsh said.

Thief Is Too Fond Of Animals

Cook recently bought a pig to keep in his backyard. Someone stole it. Then he bought a dozen ducks. Someone stole them. Then a possum which promptly had a litter of 10. The whole family was swiped.

Finally, he bought 10 chicks which grew up into nine hens and a rooster. If you think someone stole all of them, you're wrong. They left the rooster.

Tongue Twister

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The word concasphinsulated on a Chesterfield County building permit caused some furrowed brows. It referred to the type roof for an industrial building. Miss Patricia Barbour, secretary to the building inspector, solved the problem. She had overlooked putting in the periods. The next permit read: "Conc.asph,insulated." Meaning concrete, asphalt, insulated.

Hungry Thief Gets Surprise

Missing was a container of canned ham, but the proprietor told police the missing can, like the others in the window, was empty.

Chewy Sale

CUSHING, Okla. (AP) — An insurance man met more than his match in Mrs. Loyd Harris. He tried to sell her a policy. He failed but wound up buying two pounds of peanut brittle she was making.

LAW IN ACTION

If You Knowingly Buy Stolen Goods--Beware

California lawyers, appears regularly in the Independent-Journal.)

Journeyman thieves have to have somebody to market their thefts. So the law punishes a person who knowingly buys, receives, or hides stolen property. The punishment ranges from a one-year jail term to a 10-year prison term.

In the trial, the district attorney must show that the accused (1) knew the property was stolen, and (2) that he possessed it, or allowed others to hide it on his place.

JURY'S VIEW

It may take "circumstantial" evidence to prove "knowledge and possession." So the jury may take a long look at suspicious circumstances: Did the accused buy the thing way below market price? Did the seller have a bad name? What kind of property was stolen? (Diamonds and watches, for example.) When and where did the accused get the property? (e.g. at night, in an alley?) Did someone change the property's identifications?

Suppose you got the property but did not know it was stolen. But suppose you later found out, and hid it. Then you are guilty of concealing stolen property.

LAW HELPS

The prosecution has to prove you knew the property was stolen, but the law helps: It presumes you knew it was stolen if you got it from a youngster under 18. A buyer deals with such a minor at his own risk unless he bought the thing at a regular fixed place of business.

The state can prosecute a "fence" who arranges with the thief to receive stolen property. As an accomplice he may also be guilty of conspiracy to commit theft, burglary, or robbery.

EXTRA DUTY

Certain dealers in second hand goods have an extra duty to find out, if they can, whether the seller owns the property. Otherwise the law presumes they knew it was stolen.

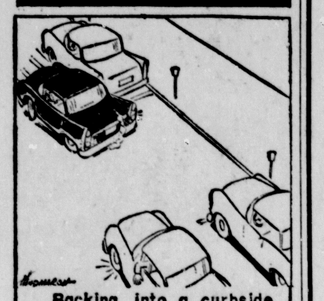
Understanding Visitors

SYDNEY (AP) — Australian Minister for External Affairs Richard G. Casey says visits by leading Asian journalists have helped to bring about better understanding between Australia and her Asian neighbors.

SAFE DRIVING TIP



Backing into a curbside parking space on a busy street requires a sharp lookout through the rear window for approaching traffic.

Often in crowded districts the driver following you does not know you are going to park, the Chicago Motor Club points out, so be sure to signal him.

Don't forget that when backing into a parking place, the left front fender of your car will jut into the adjoining traffic lane. Wait for an opening before starting the rearward swing.

Housewives Tell Of Dream Kitchen

CHICAGO (UPI)—Researchers asked homemakers about their dream kitchens and got a surprise. The women are more interested in realistic space-saving devices and cooking units than in gadgets.

One and a half-million women in 19 cities participated in the study by examining nine advanced kitchen designs. And then, naturally, they spoke their minds.

Youthful Enterprise

LANDRUM, S.C. (AP) — Chalk up another small businessman as a failure. Jerry Clarke, 5, strung up a barricade with his fishing tackle at a small bridge leading to his mother's beauty parlor. He had cleared 21 cents — one per customer — when mom, Mrs. Wayne Clark, put him out of business.

Fenced In

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A work crew from a mail order firm prepared to leave the home of Carl Hartnack after they had fenced in the place. But they couldn't. Trapped inside the fence was one of their trucks.

Gls Cheer Streamlined Payroll Setup

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (UPI)— The old song that "happy is the day when the Army gets its pay." But it hasn't always been thus for the company clerks, finance officers and others who make out the payrolls.

For even in the "old Army" of World War II, this was a back-breaking job which never seemed to come out quite right. And in the peace-time Army, the chore became more complicated because of the many incentive and security provisions involved in a GI's wages.

The payroll system thus got more and more cumbersome under the weight of vouchers, red lines and carbon paper. Under combat conditions in Korea, the system broke down altogether. Paydays were delayed. Errors were made that led to more confusion. The troops grumbled plenty.

Now, though, the Army has come up with a new system designed to streamline the whole business and to insure every GI that he will be paid the proper amount on time no matter where he is.

This is a particularly important consideration for such outfits as the 101st Airborne Division stationed here at Ft. Campbell. Paratroops often find themselves thousands of miles from their bases within a few days' time.

Under the new system, all of a soldier's financial records are kept on a single voucher form which makes five copies without the use of carbon paper.

These vouchers accompany the GI wherever he goes. On the back side of each sheet are various tables from which each man can quickly check for himself how much he has coming, how much he owes in allotments, the amount of withholding taxes, savings, and so on.

"Anyone who can add, subtract and read can check his own pay," said Maj. B. M. Rogers, finance officer of the 101st Division, adding that 90 per cent of the questions the individual soldier might raise can easily be answered by his first sergeant or company commander.

Rogers said "the new system is ideally suited to the Strategic Army Corps concept which the 101st has pioneered. Payments now can keep up with the widely separated and fast-moving divisional units."

GOYA OR REMBRANDT?

U.S. Steel Potential Shows Big Rise

NEW YORK (UPI) — America's steel-making potential is now 61 per cent higher than it was at the end of World War II, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute.

The institute said the nation's annual steel making capacity rose seven million tons in 1958 to a record 147,633,670 tons at yearend.

Salvage Attempt For Liner Doria

On a bright summer's day in 1960, if salvage master Dick Meyers has his way, the Doria will rise from her watery grave 40 miles off Nantucket Island and the barnacle-encrusted plaque will be removed before the leviathan returns to the sea lanes.

The Italian sea queen has been resting 240 feet down on the ocean bottom since the morning of July 27, 1956, less than 12 hours after she collided with the Swedish liner Stockholm with the loss of 50 lives.

Meyers, who negotiated with the Doria's insurers for rights to the hulk, regards his task as "routine."

"There is really not too much to it once you have studied the wreck and know what is to be done," said Meyers.

The bearded diver explained that aproximately 100 inflatable rubber caissons, each with a lifting power of 212 tons, would be secured to the sunken vessel.

"The caissons are secured by knocking most of the 400 portholes out of the Doria, then inserting clamps through the openings. Once they are in place we'll start lifting.

"We plan to lift it by degrees, then tow it toward Nantucket with two ships, allowing it to settle to the bottom periodically until we are in only 30 feet of water.

"At that point a gang of men will swarm over the exposed parts of the Doria to smear grease over her. While she is submerged the only real oxidation damage will be that suffered by the light metals such as aluminum," Meyers said.

"At the most there would have been possibly $100,000 and I suppose that was taken off in the 11 hours before she sank," he said.

"The big money is in the salvage. We figure the whole operation will cost us less than four million dollars and when the Doria is raised she will be worth three-fourths of her 38 million dollar cost," the 41-year-old diver said.

Uu to 600 men will be involved at times in the project although the crew will be restricted by weather to working only from late spring until mid-December. Meyers hopes to have the Doria out of the water by the end of summer in 1960.

Meyers' 20-year career of raising ships all over the globe includes salvage work in Subic Bay in the Philippines during World War II.

He prepared for the Doria job by the salvage of a Dutch ship, the 250-foot Prinz Willem V, sunk in 100-foot waters of Lake Michigan.

"The Willem suffered the same kind of damage as the Doria on the same side," Meyers explained. "Raising her solves many of the problems we'll face with the Doria."

Big Escort To Hospital

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Richard Barchick, 26, had lots of company on her way to St. Vincent's hospital where she gave birth to a son.

When the arrival seemed imminent, she phoned her husband at work and called in four friends.

Her husband phoned the fire department which dispatched a five-man rescue squad. The firemen, in turn, called in a two-man police ambulance detail.

The total of 12 persons, in various vehicles, accompanied Mrs. Barchick to the hospital.

Debatable Opinion

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A University of Wisconsin psychologist has confirmed what most men suspected all along: That fathers make better mothers than the mothers do. Dr. Harry F. Harlow told a Florida State University audience that it's entirely possible the woman may be replaced at home by the man. Said Harlow: "The American male is physically endowed with all the really essential equipment to compete with the American female on equal terms with the rearing of infants."

Many Convicts Helping Out Those 'Outside'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prisoners in many jails across the nation are doing more than "time" to repay their debts to society.

In the U.S. Federal Penitentiary, Atlanta, 400 volunteers allowed themselves to be bitten by malaria-carrying mosquitoes. Their assistane thrust medical scientists forward in the search for an anti-malaria vaccine.

Jefferson City, Mo., inmates voluntarily have taken shots of blood drawn from patients sick with schizophrenia — the split-personality mental illness.

When a five-year-old Georgia girl suffered third-degree burns prisoners at the Atlanta Penitentiary were asked to donate three by six-inch strips of skin. Two-hundred answered the call. Grateful doctors selected 10 for the gift that money couldnt buy.

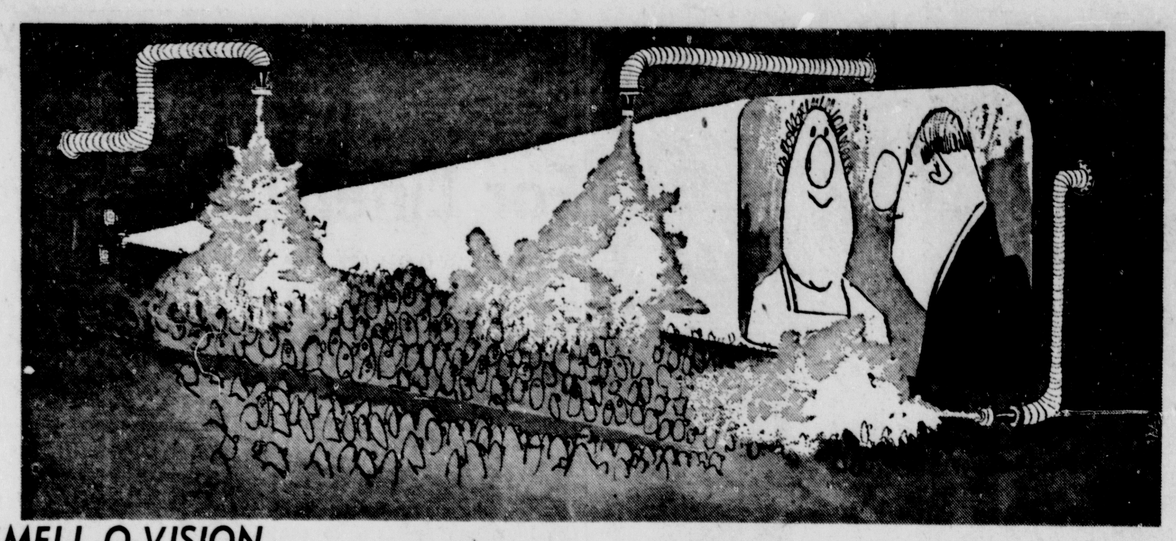
Contributions to charities are frequent in many prisons. At the Bendleton, Ind. State Reformatory, inmates send several hundred dollars to the "Clothe-A-Child" and "Cheer" funds at Christmas time. In Huntsville, Tex., the prison population gave $317 to the local Children's Society.



SMELL-O-VISION

This Film Should Be Big B.O. Hit

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UPI) — "Where's Mike Todd Jr., I asked.

"Follow your nose," said his friend. He laughed and laughed.

Ever since the son of the late, great showman announced that his solo debut in show business would be called "Smell-O-Vision" the jokes have been flying at half mast.

Why, count your noses, of course. (Laughter?)

Finally along came the man of a thousand smells, young Mike himself, with not even a whiff of after-shave lotion. He had been working on the contract for the star he hopes to get for his first film, "Scent of Mystery."

Mike explained he was calling his new process "Smell-O-Vision" because it was advancing the cinema another notch along the five senses.

They were originally called movies because they moved. Then talkies because they talked.

"Now," said Mike, "through a Swiss process fixed at each seat, the audience will be able to smell for a few seconds each of those scenes which are important to the story, or which give the audience greater identification with characters on the screen."

Young Mike can understand the amusement his idea is creating among the public but it took him only a few minutes to convince some hard-headed movie men that he has inherited his famous father's nose for that rarest of perfumes — money.

For what Mike will be shooting in Andalusia in Spain is a comedy-thriller that in story, writing and cast should be able to return him a profit as a film alone.

And to this big-screen extravaganza, he is adding the novelty of 15 different smells concocted by his Swiss backroom wizard, Hans Laube, all of which will help the audience follow the clues being pursued by Peter Lorre and others on the screen.

"We've tested it in an actual cinema," Mike said. "It was a fantastic success. For example, on screen we've got a man murdered by being run down by a great cask of wine.

"Lorre sniffs the broken cask and says:

"'Portobello '52. An amusing wine but not much body.'

For the film, Laube has also produced the aroma of peaches, coffee, freshly baked bread and horses.

Someone asked Todd if his business partner and stepmother, Elizabeth Taylor, was going to play in the film.

"I smell success," he said.

Most Union Men Got Raises In '58

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Increased wages were either put through or were in the negotiating stage for 85 per cent of workers covered by major collective bargaining contracts in 1958, according to the U.S. Department of Labor.

Preliminary figures showed that 3,500,000 employes actually received wage increases as a result of 1958 settlements with hikes averaging 12 cents an hour.
